Billions More In Taxes Are Asked Of Congress By President

President Asks For Much Higher Defense Taxes

Says Price And Wage Controls Are Necessary

By FELIX COTTEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Truman today asked Congress for "much higher" taxes of all kinds to pay defense costs totaling more than $140,000,000,000 in the next two years and said direct price and wage controls and tight credit curbs are necessary.

The chief executive submitted his annual economic report, calling for a national austerity program in which "we must work harder, reduce consumption, and forego improvements in farm business and household equipment." Mr. Truman said:

"For the fiscal years 1951 and 1952 combined, new obligational authority enacted or anticipated for our military forces, for economic and military aid to other free nations, for atomic energy and stockpiling, and for related purposes, will probably total more than $140,000,000,000."

Requests Made

Mr. Truman said the nation must put defense against Communist aggression on a pay-as-you-go basis. He asked:

1. Legislation at this session of Congress "to increase taxes by very much more than they were increased by the last two major tax bills."

2. "Broad extension of price and wage controls to hold down the upward spiral."

3. More authority for the Federal Reserve Board to control housing credit and strengthing of the present rent control law because "it has become obsolete."

4. Authority for the Agriculture Department to control speculative

U.N. Plans Final Move For Peace In Korea Today

New Attempt For Cease-Fire Order Now Under Way

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 12—A "last chance" truce bid to Communist China based on an immediate cease-fire in Korea and a promise that the United States will discuss Formosa with Peiping may be voted by overwhelming U. N. majority today.

The 60-member political committee is scheduled to hold a crucial session at 3 p.m. (EST) for the final bid to Peiping. If this is rejected by China, as is probable, it will precipitate a demand that U. N. adopt a "get tough" policy against the Korean aggressor.

Expect Approval

Forecasts are that all but the Soviet bloc will approve the five-point peace bid to Peiping as outlined by the assembly's three-man truce group. Nationalist China is likely to abstain, foreshadowing a vote of 54 to 5 and one abstention

The political committee, once it has voted its recommendation to the assembly, will quickly constitute itself a plenary session of the assembly and give final approval to dispatch of the truce formula to Peiping.

U. S. and other circles indicate that a specific deadline will not be

Commanding Hill At Wonju Is Recaptured

Superfort Bombing Of Wonju Aids In Retaking Of Height

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Jan. 13 — (Saturday)—United Nations troops, aided by an 80-ton Superfort bombing of Wonju, wrested a commanding hill from Communist troops Friday on the Central Korean battlefront.

The Communist forces had taken Hill 247 southwest of Wonju earlier, but a regiment of the U. S. Second Infantry Division regained the strategic height in a battle which began at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon (midnight, EST). More than a foot of snow covered the battlefield.

Flanking Move Attempted

Other Red flanking units swept as far as 30 miles behind the American lines and set up road blocks threatening the bigger railhighway junction of Chungju, 72 miles inside south Korea.

Violent fighting erupted anew along the U. S. Eighth Army's inland flank as air-supported American troops counter-attacked the enemy-held hill near Wonju and fought to erase the Red road blocks across their supply lines.

In the west sector, meanwhile, a twin-engined plane bearing American markings dropped five bombs in two attacks on American lines three miles south of Osan, which is 28 miles below the Red-occupied Korean capital of Seoul.

Disguised Aircraft

International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne, reporting this apparent enemy ruse of disguising aircraft, said the bombs fell at 9:10 and 9:15 a.m. Friday (7:10 and 7:15 p.m. Thursday EST). His front dispatch said the American positions suffered no damage.

Truman's Authority To Send Troops Challenged

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senate GOP leaders Taft and Wherry flatly challenged today President Truman's claim that he has authority to commit American troops to Europe without consent of congress.

The Republican policy chief from Ohio and the floor leader from Nebraska declared in separate statements that Mr. Truman must have congressional consent if he wants to commit U. S. forces to "an international army".

Will Consult Congress

The president told his news conference that he will consult congress on sending additional ground forces to Europe but will not be bound by any decision but his own.

The chief executive asserted at a dinner of new Democratic congressmen Thursday night that the U. S. wants peace but not "at any price".

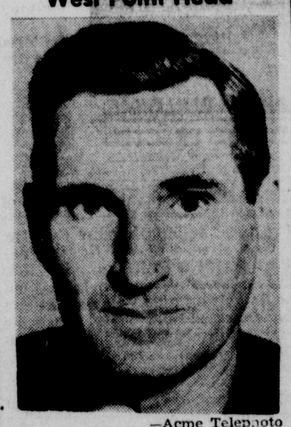

The president said the Kremlin is peopled by "unmoral" leaders and the west must "band together" to resist another mongol horde bent on world conquest.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he has clear constitutional authority to send American troops anywhere and will send them wherever necessary in the interest of American security.

The American military chief will leave later in the day for Oslo, Norway, for further talks there concerning contributions to the defense army before journeying on Saturday to London.

Initial contact was made with some officials last night following his arrival by air from the Netherlands. Gen. Eisenhower talked informally with various Danish authorities at a dinner tendered by the United States Ambassador to Denmark, Mrs. Eugenie Anderson.

Token Contribution

It was expected that because of Denmark's present state of unpreparedness the Danes will not attempt to promise Gen. Eisenhower anything more immediately than a token contribution of forces.

Would Admit Students To College After Two Years In High School

CHICAGO, Jan. 12. — (INS) — President Ernest Colwell of the University of Chicago has suggested admission of students to college after they have finished two years of high school as an answer to the educational problems of an 18-year-old draft.

Colwell said yesterday experience at the University of Chicago, which since 1942 has admitted students with only two years of high school, convincingly demonstrates that the college program can be completed by 18. He added:

"College education is a unit and its benefits can best be realized if it is not broken into two periods separated by 27 months of military service."

New Chicago Record: 12 Days—No Murder

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—No one was murdered in Chicago during the past 12 days — and that's a record.

Lieut. John Golden, head of the Police Homicide Division, said yesterday the previous record for no murders was a seven-day period in October, 1950.

The last murder reported in Chicago was last year—December 30, 1950—when a 69-year-old barber was shot and killed by two robbers in his south side shop.

New Fire Truck Has Arrived

New Wilmington Gets Fine New Fire Truck

New Wilmington volunteer fire department has received its new fire truck after a wait of nearly two months from the expected date of arrival.

The truck arrived in the borough at about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening with sirens blaring, with W. B. Gilliland, fire chief; George Brown, past fire chief, and Harold Anderson, past president, aboard.

These men went to the factory of the Seagraves company in Columbus, O., and drove the truck back to New Wilmington.

Arrival of the truck was expected in November, but because of production difficulties was held up. The old truck, which was purchased in February, 1930, will be kept to insure double fire protection in the district.

Remington To Start Defense

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The defense in the trial of former commerce department employe William Remington, charged with perjury in denying communist affiliations, is scheduled today to present its first witness.

Presiding Judge Gregory F. Noonan directed the defense to proceed with the presentation of witnesses after denying yesterday two defense motions to dismiss the indictment against Remington. The judge also turned down another motion for a mistrial.

Remington himself is expected to take the stand in his own defense. Opinion is that it may require another three weeks for the defense to present its entire case in an effort to disprove the charges that Remington lied when he told a federal jury that he never had been a member of the Communist party.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The frost and cold of the past few months has evidently been hard on automobile window glass noting the number of cracked windows in cars about the city. The windows frost up considerably and when the doors of the cars are shut quite hard, the windows crack. A good many of the later model cars have become victims of the cracked windows.

Main roads about the county were reported in good shape today by Alfred A. Martin, county highway superintendent. If no further snow falls and temperatures rise, it should give a clear surface to the secondary roads which still have quite a bit of ice.

With the addition of a new truck to the New Wilmington Fire Department and the one received a few days ago by the Shenango Volunteer Department, the county will soon have fire coverage second to none in this section of the state. Nearby Portersville will soon have a new department in operation to combat fires in that disrict.

A glance at the calendar today reveals that just three weeks from today will mark the arrival of groundhog day. Some folks are hoping for signs of an early spring on that date.

One of Pa Newc's boys, on a trip north last evening, reported that highways north of the city were extremely slippery, particularly in upper Mercer county and in Crawford county. He found little had been done in the way of ashing danger spots, he reported.

Price-Wage Control Proposals Deluge Capital Officials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The capital is deluged today with price-wage control proposals, but it appears unlikely the government will take any sweeping action against rising living costs for another 60 days.

The administration officials are split on what course to follow. Labor, industry and farm groups have presented a series of widely different anti-inflation programs to the government.

President Truman probably will have to cut through the tangle and ultimately chart the price-wage control path, but for the moment the White House is more or less non-committal on method.

The chief executive told his news conference Thursday merely that the government will take whatever steps are necessary to control prices and wages and will put such controls into effect as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Assistant Defense Secretary Anna M. Rosenberg announced today that President Truman has increased the goal for the armed services from 3,200,000 to 3,462,205 men by June 30.

Mrs. Rosenberg said the increase is to be met "at the earliest possible moment" but at the latest by June 30 of this year.

The armed services on last Oct. 31 had reached a total of 2,106,000 men, according to figures presented to the committee by Mrs. Rosenberg.

She revealed the new plan for the build-up of the nation's military forces shortly after resuming testimony in support of the administration's new program to draft 18-year-olds for Universal Military Training and service.

Godfrey To Take Navy Assignment In Europe Soon

By JACK O'BRIAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Arthur Godfrey today is winding up his $1,000,000-a-year radio and TV career to take a $500-a-month "temporary" U. S. Navy assignment in Europe with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The shift from highly-paid and high-powered civilian status to a full commander's uniform in the navy, where he has held a reserve commission for many years, was learned by this correspondent despite official secrecy.

Not even Godfrey's eight sponsors and eight advertising agencies were aware he was to make such a move.

Rumored several times recently, it was flatly denied early this week at the Pentagon in Washington.

But the facts are these:

Godfrey will end his air waves activities after next Wednesday night's "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" on CBS.

He immediately will fly to Pensacola, Fla., where he will rejoin the navy on active status in a final refresher course.

Then he will return to New York for about two weeks and wind up his considerable affairs to permit him to leave for Europe and special assignment with Gen. Eisenhower.

The redheaded performer is expected to leave for Europe about the middle of February. The exact length of his "special assignment" is not known.

TRUMAN'S AUTHORITY TO SEND TROOPS IS CHALLENGED

mander if it was not intended to follow up and aid Europe's defense, the chief executive asked.

Taft Disagrees

But Taft, who argued the issue on the senate floor in Thursday's sharp foreign policy debate, told reporters:

"I disagree with him, of course. He can't commit American troops to an international army without the consent of congress".

Earlier, in his formal senate address, Taft contended Mr. Truman had lacked authority to send troops to Korea but only urged that congress be consulted before any go to Europe.

Taft had no comment on the president's statement that he would consult congress through the armed services and foreign relations committees. The president said he would welcome any senator for individual consultation, when asked whether he would talk it over with Taft and other GOP leaders.

Has No Authority

Wherry said Mr. Truman would be using "common sense" to let congress settle the issue.

The senator stated:

'The president does not have authority to assign American boys to an international army in Europe without coming to congress to get that authority either under the Atlantic pact or the constitution itself.

"The American people are anxiously looking to congress to make the decision. It would be just good common sense for the president to let congress make it. The case should be taken to the people on the question of authority; because after a fait accompli the question of appropriations becomes a very difficult matter".

COMMANDING HILL AT WONJU RECAPTURED

in 24 hours, Red troops unleashed furious new attacks Friday afternoon against the front and flanks of the second division's salient below Wonju.

Schakne's field dispatch reported at 8:39 p.m. (6:39 a.m. EST) that one Communist column of 6,000 to 10,000 men struck down a road northeast of Wonju following the superfort raid and overran the highway leading south from the pivotal city.

These enemy units, the message related, cut behind the second division's forward positions two miles south of Wonju and began pouring heavy mortar fire into American troops. Schakne quoted an officer as saying this made the U. S. positions "hard to hold but we are holding."

Bomb Heights

After surging west across the southward road, the Reds seized a strategic hill southwest of the American positions. From it they were able to sweep the U. S. troops with fire.

Carrier-borne U. S. Marine Corsairs rained Napalm (jellied gasoline bombs) on the enemy-captured height late Friday and the GI's then counter-attacked in an effort to regain the hill.

The correspondent said a "new threat to the entire UN line" in the vital Wonju sector was created by Red infiltration forces threatening the big rail-highway center of Chongju, 25 miles south of Wonju. These enemy units had established several road blocks athwart the highway from Wonju down to Chungju and others on a lateral road between Chungju and Naeri. 14 miles to the east, Naeri lies 30 air miles southeast of Wonju.

The superforts, executing one of their rare tactical close support missions, poured 160,000 pounds of explosives upon Red-occupied Wonju within 19 minutes.

American and other United Nations troops arrayed in an arc within two miles south of Wonju drew back temporarily so that the superfort blasting would not hit friendly ground forces.

A 20,000-man Red column meanwhile thrust vanguard more than 70 miles inside South Korea around the second division's east flank and into its rear communications in a fresh attempt to envelope the UN forces.

Along the entire front the Chinese and North Korean invaders built up additional strength under incessant attack by UN planes credited with killing or wounding nearly 2,500 Red soldiers in the 24 hours up to noon Friday.

These casualty figures were issued by U. S. Fifth Air Force headquarters which said its airmen mowed down 900 Communist troops Friday morning.

Some 400 of these were killed or wounded in the Suwon area below Seoul where the Reds were massing huge forces for an imminently expected new offensive against the main U. S. Eighth Army Forces in the west sector.

A tense lull, broken only by patrol clashes, hovered over most of the front up until midday Friday.

However, two North Korean divisions totalling up to 20,000 troops swung wide around the east wing of the American Second Infantry Division and its associated French and Dutch troops in the center of the peninsula.

trading and tighten regulation of commodity exchanges.

5. "Greatly increased savings" to provide "a nest egg to buy goods later at a time when they become more plentiful." He warned that "the alternatives to more saving are either more taxes or inflation."

6. Increased production of steel, aluminum, electric power and raw materials.

The president declared:

"The great manpower under the control of Soviet communism is being driven with fanatic zeal to build up military and industrial strength. We invite disaster if we underestimate the forces working aganst us."

Rules Out Price Increases

Ms. Truman ruled out price increases except "in rare cases." He said:

"The general policy must be to hold the line with utmost vigor, as the incidents are rare indeed where further price increases are needed either to stimulate production or to provide adequate profit incentives."

The president expressed hope that "a sound and fair wage stabiliation policy" will be developed.

He said the American people must keep in mind "five basic principles" all must plan, serve, share sacrifices, develop all resources wisely, and "work with our Allies in the common cause."

Mr. Truman declared emphatically that "we should make it the first principle of economic and fiscal policy in these times to maintain a balanced budget, and to finance the cost of national defense on a 'pay-as-we-go' basis."

The president added:

"We must now, as rapidly as posible, take the next step and it must be a very big step, in view of the size of the new defense fund which have necessarily been appropriated and the required additions to these funds which will be set forth more fully in the budget message.

"Legislation should be enacted, at this session of the Congress, to increase taxes by very much more than they were increased by the last two major tax bills which the Congress enacted . . .

"The new tax increases, now required, must press harder upon every source of available revenue. Corporations should pay much higher taxes. Individuals should pay much higher taxes. Excise taxes should be higher and more extensive. Many loop-holes in the tax law should be closed."

The president declared that the new tax proposals will be submitted to Congress in the near future after further consultation with legislative leaders. Treasury Secretary Snyder has said he intends to present them about February 1.

men under present selective service regulations. He said that some 350,000 students now exempted for college as well as married men will have to be called unless 18-year-olds are drafted.

The inspiration for the new program was said by defense officials to have come from the American Association of University Presidents.

Gordon Gray, former army secretary who resigned to become head of the University of North Carolina, has been the association's representative in Washington urging UMST.

Hostility Shown

Johnson is the first senator to announce outright hostility to features of the new program. He said that if the military situation requires the drafting of 18-year-olds, "there is not much anyone can do about it."

The senator added:

"But until we get in a (world-wide) shooting war, I oppose sending them overseas. I don't want the military to take over the social, welfare and educational programs of the country. And I certainly object to conscripting boys for civilian jobs."

EXECUTE MAN WHO KILLED 23

tory, but only jail officials witnessed the hanging.

The trap was sprung at 12:26 a.m. and he was pronounced dead 11 minutes later.

Lost Final Appeal

Yesterday the 33-year-old Quebec jeweler lost an appeal for a reprieve. The Justice Department said there would be "no interference" with the hanging.

The state traced the origin of the case to 1946 when Guay fell in love with a 17-year-old girl.

In September of 1949 he smuggled the time bomb aboard a Canadian Pacific Airliner on which his wife Rita had booked passage to visit relatives. The bomb exploded in the air and all aboard were killed.

Almost Perfect Crime

It was almost a perfect crime. If the plane had taken off on time it would have plunged into the St. Lawrence River where any clues might have been lost. But it was late in taking off, crashed on land and an investigation disclosed the existence of a time bomb.

During Guay's trial the state brought out that he had insured his wife's life for $10,000 a short time before he arranged her murder.

Awaiting trial as Guay's alleged accomplice is Mrs. Margaret Pitre, 48.

Hear Mr. Paden

Then, following group singing, and opening welcomes and introductions by Mr. Paden, reports of the operating committees were heard. They were from chairmen, John H. Hough of the Organization and Extension committee, Ralph F. Davis of the Leadership Training committee, Ernest D. Hawk of Camping and Activities committee, Erle Yahn of Advancement committee, Dr. J. Wesley Post of the Health and Safety committee, and Sam A. Mooney of the Finance committee.

A. H. Gonick, president of the Community Chest, spoke of the connection between the Community Chest and scouting, and the services rendered the community by both groups. County Scout Executive J. C. Hildebrand then spoke briefly.

Finney Guest Speaker

Dr. J. M. T. Finney Jr., Baltimore surgeon and prominent in Baltimore scouting circles then addressed the group.

Dr. Finney built a contrast between Stalin's youth program and our American Boy Scout program. He emphasized the need for leadership and the fact that the regimented Soviet youth training, never would produce the proper kind of leader.

He then mentioned prominent persons connected with scouts and scouting, relating how, as scouts, they received leadership training.

The program was closed when E. D. Hawk council commissioner led the gathering in the scoutmaster's benediction.

ANOTHER 'TAX GRAB'

As neat a piece of "tax grabbing" as we have seen in years is about to be proposed to the General Assembly.

The Highway Planning Commission will have presented to the General Assembly a bill which would take away from the counties the one-half cent per gallon tax refund from gasoline sales and distribute this to the various subdivisions of the various counties.

In the case of Lawrence county this would mean taking away from the county approximately $100,000 per year and dividing it up among 17 townships, eight boros and the City of New Castle. The division would be on the basis of one third for population, one third for state highway mileage in the district and one third for the area of the sub-division.

The question then arises, who is to pay the highway bonds? Who is to build bridges on highways other than state highways. Who is to pay the highway department for road damages and to aid in building bridges or state highways. Who is to repair the county bridges and pay the salaries and wages of bridge crews?

For 25 years the county has been paying off its highway bonds from gasoline tax returns. It has also built bridges, repaired bridges, contributed to damages on state highways. Examples are Highways 18, 224, 422 and others .The county is contributing $35,000 towards the building of the bridge now being constructed over the Neshannock creek near south Mercer street.

Refuse the county the gasoline tax return and any such improvements would have to be paid from the general fund which in turn means tax on real estate. Insofar as highway bonds are concerned this county will be free of indebtedness as of July 1, 1951.

Under present law when the surplus in the gasoline tax fund equals the yearly return then the return must be divided between the various sub-divisions. There is some reason for this. The county is not called upon to build new bridges every year, nor is the total contribution for road damages excessive.

In other words, if a year from now the county has $100,000 in the liquid fuels tax fund and gets an additional $100,000 from the state, then $100,000 would be turned over to the sub-divisions.

But there will be years when the county will be called upon to build bridges, to aid highways to paint bridges and viaducts. The small amount of a return to a small township would not be sufficient to build a bridge needed in that township nor pay for road damages, even though the use would be for the general public.

The bill when presented should be roundly defeated. If it passes then property owners can look for a healthy increase in real estate taxes. In the case of Lawrence county it might be remembered that the City of New Castle pays about 65 per cent of the county taxes.

KNOW YOUR INITIALS?

Here are some of the more important new agencies set up in Washington to handle the war mobilization programs. Obviously, the American people must familiarize themselves with a whole new set of alphabetical control bureaus.

The list:

NSRB—National Security Resources Board.
NPA—National Production Authority.
ESA—Economic Stabilization Agency.
WSB—Wage Stabilization Board.
OPS—Office of Price Stabilization.
FCDA—Federal Civil Defense Administration.
SACB—Subversive Activities Control Board.
TCA—Technical Cooperation Administration.
ODM—Office of Defense Mobilization.

In law, and in fact, these are essentially the same agencies we knew in World War II, but now the initials are different.

DIVORCE DECLINE

Whether Americans are thinking better of their marriage vows or are just settling down after the wartime wedding binge, the fact is that divorces are showing a gratifying decline.

Divorces during 1949 totaled 391,000, compared to 422,000 in 1948. These are the latest figures available, but incomplete statistics for 1950 reveal a continuation of the downward trend. Divorces in 1950 are estimated at 40 per cent under the peak figure of 1946.

Now the nation is entering another war era with its emotional impact upon young folks. With young men being uprooted, perhaps to serve precariously on foreign soil, the normal reaction for them and their girl friends is to seek what happiness they can while opportunity affords.

Scientist who asserts cows are smarter than horses never tried to teach a calf to drink out of a bucket.

During the last decade, statistics show, 35 million wedding rings were sold in the U. S. Of course, during that time, there were three leap years.

In Canada, a bull moose attacked a locomotive. The critter may not have been so dumb, at that. He'd probably heard what the railroads did to his U. S. cousin, the buffalo.

The British isles, scientists insist, are slowly but surely drifting westward. Gosh, our English cousins will soon be more than that—they'll be our next door neighbors!

Little Enthusiasm In Germany

All hope that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's mission to Europe would touch of an immediate wave of German enthusiasm for rearming in defense of Democracy appears to have vanished today.

The man who hopes to create a mighty army in Western Europe as a bulwark against Communism has had his initial conference with high officials in France, Belgium, and Holland.

French government sources are talking about 20 French divisions to be ready for service by 1953.

Belgium has promised to supply five, two of them immediately.

Italy, whether it is to figure in the consultations or not, has offered three divisions without delay. Defense Minister Randolfo Pacciardi is prepared to trot them out for full review at a moment's notice.

Hesitancy In Germany

But in Germany, where the allies have taken the perhaps fateful step of commencing negotiations with political and military leaders on the part that German troops can play, there is still a singular hesitancy and division of opinion.

But this strangely enough has the unexpected aspect of improving Germany's position at the council table.

Every new step in the plan of European rearmament seems to emphasize the importance of German troops. But by the same token, every move toward that end heightens Soviet resentment—and as that grows fears of another war increase with them.

The principal object of the Eisenhower mission at the present time, of course, is to show that a well-armed Europe has less reason to fear war than a weak one.

But in many sections of the continental press that are completely free from Communist domination there is a rising note or querulousness.

Will Soviet Attack?

Will the Soviets attack if they see Western Europe, particularly Germany, rearming in earnest?

Is there time to create a really effective force? Is it economically feasible? Would it not be better to give Russia no excuse?

Protagonists of a strong European army who try to answer these questions have fallen back on the thesis that the only thing Communism fears is force, and back this up with a reminder that the United States still is pre-eminent in the atom bomb field.

But there is no hiding the fact that their role is a difficult one, despite the fact that national governments are ensuring the American commander of full support—at least insofar as facts and figures are concerned.

It still seems certain that Gen. Eisenhower will run up against the hardest part of his assignment when he reaches Germany.

German People Not Sure

The German people are just not sure of what is best for them.

There was a divided reaction when the military talks with the allied high commission began with a communique that identified two former Nazi generals—Hans Speidel and Adolf Heusinger—by their military titles.

This gave rise to some serious afterthought and the allies issued a subsequent statement asking that the word "retired" be inserted in each case. Originally it was thought that the title had been used as a gesture of equality and one that would please the German people.

Ostensibly Gen. Eisenhower will not be saddled with the task of ironing out the many postwar problems brought in the train of an allied policy that dictated "denazification, democratization and decartelization" for the Germans.

But rearmament has emphasized the gravity of these problems and underline the fact that Germany expects a great deal in exchange if she is to go back into uniform and transform her soil into the first line of defense against Communism.

Thus the future of Europe must be weighed from a dozen different angles. Much of the present indecision springs from the fact that the ordinary people are doing a lot of weighing themselves and they have not come up with unanimous opinion in favor of rearmament by any manner or means.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LEARNING LONG DIVISION

Black threatening clouds rise up before my mind and heavy weights press down in my stomach when I recall the miserable memories of the days when as a lad I had to do long division. I can see the long, long row of figures in the dividend and the three or four place numbers in the divisor. I must have finished one of those problems but I don't seem to recall a single success, each problem was so long and hard and I made so many mistakes.

Some years later when I taught children long division, I found it could be fun for them. Still later, Mrs. Myers and I wrote a series of self-teaching arithmetics in which long division lost its misery. Some more recent school books have also rendered long division easy.

Gradual Steps

Simplicity and gradual steps are the secrets. Instead of having the child begin with a long number divided by a two or three-place number, he begins with something as simple as 6 divided by 3. Then, after some practice with no remainder, he has a problem, with a remainder, but still there's a one-figure divisor and dividend. Long before there is a two or three-place number in the divisor, the learner gets practice with a one-place number in the divisor and a long dividend, as 486 ÷ 2, and later one like this: 765 ÷4, in which the learner goes through all the necessary long divsion steps. Even yet some school books and some teachers have the child begin long division with something like this: 3769 ÷ 21, a stupendous task to start with.

If your child has trouble with long division, check with him on his multiplication tables and his skills at subtraction; also on his ability to recognize which of two similar numbers is the larger, as 32, 27; 59, 68; 74, 37. As long as a child lags in any of these directions, he can't succeed at learning division.

Master the Facts

But don't express surprise if your child does have any such trouble. Calmly, patiently help him master the facts or skills involved without his feeling ashamed. Apply this same principle when helping him learn anything. Emphasize patience, calmness, gradual steps and simplicity. Not only should you begin with very, very easy examples but you should practice him on many of such before moving on to something even slightly harder. Always make your own written work so neat that you will be glad to have him keep it so he can refer to it as he feels the need to do so. Common fractions, also very hard for many children, can be made easy if the child is lead gradually from very simple examples to slightly harder ones, especially in an atmosphere of comfort.

Even though the child may master the mechanical side of arithmetic, he still may not get much out of the subject unless he can solve verbal problems. Here again calmness and comfortableness while he tries to solve a problem are of first importance. He must take time to read the problem carefully and get its meaning before he can solve it.

Also he may need practice in reading anything for meaning. Often a child failing in arithmetic or more advanced mathematics has really failed in reading. And such may be said of failure in history, general science or other subjects.

POVERTY

Nobody likes poverty—paupers to kings—
All who have known it remember these things:
The dread of the sound of the door bell that chills,
Which means some collector of overdue bills.

The yearning for doctors and nurses of skill
When you cannot afford when a loved one is ill;
The staring at treasures in windows of stores
And the heartache of knowing they cannot be yours.

Nobody like poverty! Friendless it stays.
All who have known it remember the days,
Bitter with hardship and hunger and cold,
Meaning toil for the young and despair for the old.

Yet this truth for poverty still can be said:
There's many a boy who went hungry to bed
Who refused to be battered and beaten by fate
And broke out of poverty's grip to be great.

WHY YEAST

Grandma always called it "East." She baked good bread no matter what she called it.

People nowadays spend a lot of money for vitamin pills. They could get vitamins and minerals for less money by using yeast.

Yeast is rich in many kinds of minerals and vitamins. Grandma knew that yeast was "good for you" even if she did not know the reasons. A yeast sandwich can be fixed up to taste pretty fine.

Washington Calling

Russian Propaganda Effort

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Regardless of what Americans may think of Senator Robert A. Taft's stand on foreign policy, and there is a wide range of difference, the top bosses of Communism in Moscow find his speech useful. The official newspaper, Pravda, has devoted one-third of its foreign news page to the address that Taft made in the Senate challenging President Truman's right to send additional American troops to Europe as part of a unified defense of the west.

This, according to a dispatch to the New York Times, is similar to the comprehensive treatment given to the speeches of Herbert Hoover and the American ambassador to Great Britain at the time of Munich, Joseph P. Kennedy. Nothing ever appears in Pravda by chance, and consequently, there is a good reason why so much space should be given to the words of Americans who say, with varying degrees of emphasis, that America must stand alone since no allies are to be trusted.

Should Cause Hesitation

For Senator Taft and the others this should cause at least a moment of hesitation. In 1938, '39 and '40 the speeches and statements of America firsters were being prominently displayed in the official newspapers of Nazi Germany, conspicuously in Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter.

They were put out to the German public because they confirmed the private convictions of the Nazi leaders. Hitler and the men around him were convinced that Americans were so deeply divided they could never be unified to resist the Nazi scheme of world aggression. Or if resistance should come, it would be after Nazism had made such extensive conquest in Europe and in South America that it would be too late.

Public Memory Is Short

The public memory is short. Nevertheless, it must have come as a surprise to many to find Taft saying in his Senate speech, "there is sufficient evidence of a determined plan to Communize the entire world, which can be clearly outlined from the writings of Lenin and Stalin just as Hitler's intention could be found in Mein Kampf." Yet in 1940, Taft gave no indication that he understood the meaning of Hitler's blueprint for world domination. In that year after Germany had overrun all of western Europe and Britain was being subjected to bombings that seemed in preparation for an assault, Taft said:

"What Germans May Do"

"I do not know what the Germans may do, and no one knows what they may do until they are freed from the present war and have an opportunity to show. When they do, we can adopt the same methods. We can take the same steps that may be necessary to meet the particular kind of German Blitzkrieg, if there is such a blitzkrieg, at the time we find out what it is."

The New York Times dispatch from Moscow puts emphasis on a quotation from Pravda's own analysis of the Taft speech. This stresses the statement by Taft that he sees "no unquestionable proofs" that the Soviet Union "intends to begin war with the United States." And the Times correspondent adds that it is bound to be of the greatest interest to Soviet readers that the head of the Republican party has no prima facie evidence the Soviet Union intends to launch an attack on the United States.

Aim Of Russian Propaganda

If one thing has been abundantly clear in Russian propaganda during the past two years, it has been the desire to establish Russia's peaceful intentions. The series of so-called peace conferences beginning with the one in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York have been staged to build up in the minds of people everywhere the theme that the Soviets love peace.

The Stockholm peace petition has been circulated in every country where it has not been banned and millions have signed it. This has taken time, energy and money on the part of world Communism, all with the goal of underscoring the Russian desire for peace.

This has not been done, we may be sure, for reasons of idle sentiment. It is a carefully constructed mask to hide the true design of Soviet imperialism. Several million North Koreans signed the peace petition. When the Communist attack on South Korea occurred, it was represented as being in response to "aggression" by the South Koreans.

That Is The Pattern

That is the pattern. It is highly improbable that the Soviet Union intends to launch an attack on the United States. But when the east German "police force," which is being transformed more and more openly into a Communist army with modern weapons, attacks the west Germans, it will be represented by Moscow as an attempt by the peace-loving east zone to put down the aggression of the imperialist west zone. Yet, that would be the first step toward the Communist conquest of

The administration is going to try to balance the budget in 1952 . . . This promises to be a sensational act and we are all in it.

New sources of revenue are still being sought and a number of new tax programs have been suggested . . . Some feel that a stiff tax on tax programs would help.

And these deficits we aren't going to be able to pass along to our children . . . They'll all be in the Army and the pay is low.

But our new policy is "pay as you go" and, if you don't go, it's ful' fare anyway.

Administration's Case

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Maybe it's hindsight, but the Administration is now offering a Master Plan which seeks to (a) justify the Korean adventure, (b) blueprint the Battle of Europe and (c) promise eventual salvation for the free world under American leadership. This column is based on discussions with a State department official who has here assembled the essential arguments which are his and not mine. They run as follows:

President Truman sent American and Allied troops to Korea in June, 1950, for much the same reasons that Prime Minister Churchill sent British and Empire troops to Greece in April, 1941.

At that point in World War II, Britain was still in mortal peril of invasion and Gen. Wavell was battling the Germans for control of North Africa. But the Germans came thrusting into Greece, intent on seizing the entire Balkan peninsula. Churchill decided to move troops from Africa, where they had a good chance to win, to Greece where they had little chance to remain.

"Better To Have Fought Aggression"

Why? Well, Churchill—like Mr. Truman—operated on the maxim "'Tis better to have fought aggression and lost, than never to have fought at all." This is not so much a moral maxim, at least in Churchill's case, as a political one. The British Empire troops in Greece were badly mauled and soon forced to make a disastrous retreat by sea. But they left behind the memory of a brave fight and the promise to return. Four years later, when they did return, they found that the seed of good faith had raised a reasonably good crop of the same. Churchill was able to restore a Greek government which is still friendly to Britain and the West.

There are, of course, some obvious differences between the cases of Greece and Korea. Churchill hoped to fire the whole Balkan world to rebellion against Hitler, and he also hoped to entice Russia to break her Stalin-Hitler Pact. These were high stakes and it's hard to see how they are matched in Korea. Also, there is good reason to suppose that Mr. Truman really expected to win in Korea, always provided that the Chinese and the Russians did not intervene. Still, this Administration argument is one that should be heard and judged by the American people. All the more so because the argument carries over into Europe and goes like this:

In Case Of Russian Blitzkrieg

Gen. Eisenhower will not have enough divisions to defeat a Russian blitzkrieg if it begins this spring, summer or fall. But the Administration is committed to lay on a fight, if Russia begins one, that will win friends as weil as slay enemies. We will almost certainly have to retreat through Germany and France, meanwhile bombing Russian cities and troop formations with every atomic weapon in the arsenal. In order to make Europe as useless as possible to the Red invaders, a scorched earth policy is indicated. If we make a stand anywhere in Europe, we will continue a war to the death from Western Hemisphere bases.

'To Win World's Good Will?'

Is this a program to win the world's good will and to insure eventual victory over Communism?

The Administration believes that it is. Its spokesmen say that their foreign policy is unconquerable in the long run. We have always been, they say, the implacable foe of the following: Tyranny, poverty, disease, aggression and war. Here, so to speak, is the "platform" on which we are running for leadership of the world. Ours are ideals which are universally "popular" and for which the world is certain to "vote" in the last round-up. Moreover, it is said, we have no choice except to stick resolutely to these principles by word and deed. If we retire into our own sheltered prosperity and turn our back on humanity, the Soviet Revolution will inherit the earth and presently gobble us up.

Merely Reported Opinions

These opinions, as I say, are merely being reported and not endorsed. Many Americans of good will do not believe that this country can or should undertake a job of global salvation. Some of us believe that the problem of evil is more theological than political, and that neither missionaries nor knights errant of Democracy are going to prevail against the errors and shortcomings of human nature. It is certainly questionable whether the American system of capitalistic republicanism will work in more than a few foreign parts, mostly where the English language is spoken or well understood. Some of us think that foreign policy should have the limited purpose of protecting America in the foreseeable future, and that missionary work is not a good excuse for getting too involved with power politics.

But the Administration argument is not without merit or support. It needs to be clearly laid before the public, especially at this time when the Great Debate on foreign policy is raging.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Many things that people do pass all understanding, but one of the least understandable of these is the craze for autographs.

I had always thought that only bobby-soxers and teen-agers in general are autograph friends. I had an idea that, as the mind emerges from the adolescent stage, this craze disappears.

But I learned otherwise some evenings ago.

I was attending a show in a New York theatre.

A few rows ahead of me sat the Duke and the Duchess of Windsor.

They had come in after the house was darkened for the beginning of the first act, so no one had noticed them.

Then came the intermission and the lights went on.

Somebody recognized the Duke and his duchess.

Pretty soon the whole theatre knew that they were there.

At first there was a polite craning of necks, finger-pointing and whispering.

Then came the first autograph-hunter—a middle-aged woman who carried more weight than wisdom.

The Duke signed politely, but the woman was not satisfied.

She wanted the duchess' signature as well—and she got it.

Pretty soon there was a line of these autograph fiends—from orchestra and first balcony, from second balcony and gallery they came streaming.

When the house darkened again, they were still standing and pushing and jabbering. The duke and the duchess were still signing.

The ushers had to call the policemen on duty to get the hungry horde back to their seats.

During the second-act intermission the duke got up and started for the lobby to have a smoke.

He didn't get half-way down the aisle. Again the hounds with the pencils were on his trail.

He went back to his seat in which some other autograph hunter was sitting, annoying the duchess for her signature.

During the third act he and his wife fled through a side-entrance, and when the hungry horde came again during the next intermission, their prey had gone.

"The nerve of those people," complained one of the fiends and the rest of them agreed, sheathed their pencils and slunk away.

What are these morons doing with their autographs? Wherever well-known people go you see them. No manners, no consideration, no sense.

Can you explain this strange phenomenon?

Personally I wouldn't give you a nickel for five dozen autographs of celebrities I don't know, who don't know me and who, in their hearts, must have the utmost contempt for this foolish lust to have vicarious contact with fame.

There ARE autographs I want and treasure.

They are signed to letters from friends who care for me, from readers who write me that I have helped them with my writing, and those "Paid in full" signatures on my monthly bills.

And, come to think of it, those letters from friends and readers, too, are receipts. They signify the fact that one has paid one's bill for living by doing his share toward his fellow men.

Celebrate School Renovations By Student Program

A program for the juniors and seniors of the New Castle high school, in celebration of the renovations made in the school auditorium, was conducted yesterday in the auditorium, and will be duplicated today for sophomores, by members of the student body.

Approximately $15,000 has been spent for new seating, a new hardwood floor, appropriate red velvet draperies for auditorium windows, and repainting.

Tells of History

An appreciative student body audience, yesterday listened to Peter Rosenberger, senior class member, relate the history of the building, and tell of the 39 year use of the old seats.

Student council president Jack Melder then, in behalf of the students thanked those instrumental in bringing to the school, the improvements.

The program, aside from the speeches of appreciation, consisted of the reading of the scripture by Roland Gilmore, the singing of the Lord's Prayer by Floyd Cotton, the national anthem, and the flag salute.

Speak For Classes

John Sansone spoke for the senior class, Wilbur Foht, for the juniors, and Edward Kovach for the sophomores.

The school auditorium had been without seats since the end of the school term, last June. The installation of the new seats was finished on Monday of this week.

western Europe. And if it was to proceed unchecked, it would make any further defense of that area impossible.

Here, in my opinion, is where Taft's words are useful to the Kremlin. By overstating and oversimplifying the immediate intention of Soviet imperialism, they confuse and divide the non- Communist world. In the Communist world they help to buttress the Soviet claim to be the original and only champion of world peace.

This may seem irrelevent in view of the importance of the debate here at home. But, surely, this repetition of the history of just 10 years ago has a significance that cannot be ignored—and especially by those who seem to be playing the same role.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Perspective

The picture we have in our minds as to what our children should be and should do often don't have the right perspective. Some of us haven't a sound baseline from which to judge our youngsters.

Though, of course, there are great individual differences in children of the same age, there are rough measures of what one can expect of a normal youngster at a particular age.

One of the best ways to get an idea of what to expect is from firsthand information. Surely, one can get something from good books about youngsters and their growth. But this should be supplemented by watching children at work and at play. Often, we can see for ourselves, that our son or daughter measures up pretty well to the others.

Another good approach is to join a child study group at the PTA or elsewhere and exchange ideas and experiences with other parents.

Getting perspective in these ways will help us relax and refrain from pushing our hopeful over-much.

The "Prayer of Faith"

will be offered for the sick in these services. What GOD has done for others, HE will do for YOU.

Jesus always forgave the sinful, and healed the sick. Since "Jesus Christ is the SAME yesterday, today and forever" (Heb. 13:8), then HE will still heal the sick and save the sinful.

Many More Now Eligible Under Social Security

"The year 1950 was especially significant for all men, women and children who have a stake in social security," declares Myron Milbouer, manager of the New Castle field office of the Social Security Administration. At mid-year, the congress completed many months of consideration on changes in this social legislation. With sweeping bi-partisan approval, important amendments were passed; on the morning of last August 28, the President signed them into law. "Since then, we in the Social Security Administration have been busy putting into effect the provisions of the amended act, and helping people to an understanding of their new rights and responsibilities," says Mr. Milbouer.

Under the revised law many more thousands of men, women and children became eligible at once for monthly insurance payments. "More than 2,000 claims have been filed in the Lawrence, Butler, Mercer county area since the amendments became law. The local manager points out that this is about twice as many claims as were handled by his office in the same period last year.

The expansion of the old-age and survivors insurance program under the new law is strikingly illustrated by national figures. For instance, in December 1949 about 2,743,000 people received monthly benefit payments amounting to $56,000,000; for December 1950 approximately 3,500,00 beneficiaries were paid a total of about $127,000,000.

Largest Group of New Claims

Mr. Milbouer points out that the increase in the number of beneficiaries reflects several provisions of the new law. The largest group of new claims has come from persons 65 or over who are now eligible for payments if they have had as much as a year and a half of work under social security since 1936. Notable among the added types of benefits payable are those to dependent husbands and widowers and to the wife under 65 in cases where the insured husband is retired and a child under 18 is in her care. There has also been an increase in the number of lump sum death payments. This is because such payments are now made even when a survivor is currently entitled to monthly benefits. Moreover, retired insured workers whose benefit payments were formerly suspended when their monthly earnings in covered employment exceeded $14.99, now continue to receive their monthly insurance payments unless such earnings are more than $50 for the month.

Also affecting the increase in claims filed and benefits paid is the amended law's provision of a $160 wage credit for every month of active military service in World war II. "We are making every effort to get in touch with newly-eligible survivors of service men," says Mr. Milbouer. "Previously many of these claims could not be allowed because of insufficient wage credits to the service man's social security account. With the $160 per month service-connected credits now provided, many of the families of deceased service men are now eligible for benefit payments."

Payments Increased

First service under the new law, however, was to the 3,000,000 people who were already beneficiaries of old-age and survivors insurance. Under the amendments, their payments were immediately increased. Mr. Milbouer states that in this area, amost 9,000 people began to receive substantially larger monthly payments. These increases came in the September checks, mailed to reach beneficiaries the first week of October—a little over a month after the enactment of the new law.

With the advent of 1951, old-age and survivor insurance was extended to regular household workers, regular farm workers and self-employed people except for certain professions. "Thus in this area we are welcoming into the social security program about 15,000 persons whose work is being covered by old-age and survivors insurance for the first time in 1951," according to Mr. Milbouer. Subject to special agreements, and certain other conditions, the new law also extends coverage to employees of non-profit organizations and those of state and local governments.

"With three out of every four gainfully occupied men and women now taking part in the expanded program, we see 1951 as a year of real challenge to the Social Securtiy Administration," says Mr. Milbouer. His office in the Frew building in New Castle serves the people of Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties. The office staff if assisting both employed and self-employed people to get social security account numbers, and is helping employers in obtaining information about the new program. The local office especially calls attention to the variety of informational publications on the new law in general, on self-employment, household employees, farm workers and other groups now covered by social security. These leaflets are available free to anyone calling at the New Castle social security office. They may be secured also by telephone call or by post-card request.

The meeting will be followed by a discussion period led by Dr. T. J. McFate and Dr. T. J. McFate Jr.

Aged Woman Plunges To Death From Window

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—A 91-year-old woman plunged to her death from a fourth floor window Thursday and police said she apparently chose to die rather than face life in a home for the aged.

Police said the woman, Miss Emilia Eppler, quietly edged herself out of the window of her midtown room as her nephew, Percy Sykes, 63, sat a few feet away reading a newspaper.

Sykes said a social worker visited them yesterday to discuss a plan for placing the elderly woman in a home. Police found a note addressed to Miss Eppler's maid expressing regret for what she intended to do.

Rise Stevens Sings Desnite Accident

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Rise Stevens sang the title role of "Der Rosenkavalier" at the Metropolitan opera for more than an hour last night with a sliver of glass in her right eye.

In her hole of Octavian she was called upon in the second act to dash a champagne glass to the floor. One of the shattered pieces flew up and was embedded in her eye.

Emergency treatment between acts failed to relieve the pain and she played through to the final curtain without giving the audience any inkling of her suffering.

After the performance, her husband, Walter Survoy, rushed her to a physician who removed the glass and sent her home to rest.

Soil Saving Practices In State Increase

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Pennsylvania Farm Editor)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—Gradual movement of Pennsylvania's farmers toward efficient soil-saving practices is shown in the State Agriculture Department's report that one out of 10 is now participating in some form of conservation work.

To provide further stimulus a working agreement now is in effect coordinating activities of the State Soil Conservation Commission, U. S. Soil Conservation Service and Pennsylvania State College.

The agreement served to terminate a long-standing rivalry among the three and channeled their efforts along lines thought to be most profitable to the farming population.

According to the agreement informal educational function fall into the domain of the Penn State Extension Service, while technical guidance to individual farmers residing within soil districts comes from the federal agency.

Coordinating the two is a state committee of three outstanding conservationists whose task is to develop detailed working procedures with an eye toward establishing harmonious relationships.

Local coordinating committees operate in each of the state's 27 soil conservation districts. Members are county extension representatives and district soil conservationists.

Allocation Is $5,500,000

The federal government's 1951 allocation for soil conservation work in Pennsylvania is about $5,500,000, according to production and marketing administration chairman Clyde A. Zehner.

Assistance provided under this program is on a share-the-cost basis with the farmer paying about half and providing all the labor.

Among practices approved for this year are:

Application of liming materials, planting seeding ladino pasture, seeding domestic ryegrass as a winter cover crop, clearing land for establishment of a permanent pasture, diversion terraces, constructing erosion-control dams, establishing sod in orchards to guard against erosion, planting forest trees and multiflora rose, application of materials containing phosphate or potash, establishing winter cover crops from seedings made in the fall of 1950, constructing pasture fences, establishing contour strip farming and sod waterways, removing stone walls and hedgerows to permit terracing and contour farming, tile underdrains, construction of earthen dams fencing farm woodlots, and improving stands of forest trees.

Pennsylvania State College's annual farm and home week programs will be supplanted this year by a series of field days in May, June, July and August.

Major emphasis will be on visiting and inspecting herds, flocks and crops in the field, according to program planners.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Dress coats this spring will have more Oomph than warmth!

Throughout New York, the designers' trends are toward more silk, linen, cotton and cobsweb-sheer coats. They offer the same amount of protection as a gassamer face-veil.

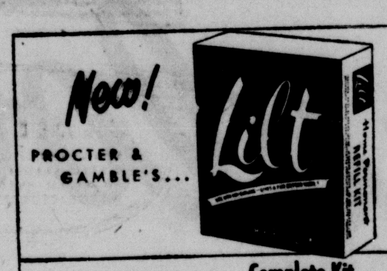

But the idea of the dressy coat, say designers, is to make women look more feminine in warm weather. They are in the accessories category, alongside stoles and organdie jackets.

Moderate priced manufacturers are showing dressy spring coats in faille, more taffeta, linens and cottons.

More high-fashioned makers feature them in nylon sheer, voile, printed organzas and velvet of metallic-striped nets.

Washington Decisions Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—I have been interested in a recent correspondence between President Truman and Representative Hebert, a Democrat of Louisiana, who wrote the President asking that a certain day be appointed for national prayer. He distinctly asked that God should "endow officials with the wisdom and courage to make the right decisions". This request was well worded as too many of us are not content to ask God to help us make the right decisions; but before praying we make the decisions for ourselves and ask God to see that they are carried out! It, however, is always sound to pray for wisdom and courage. If we would have such a prayer constantly on our mind in a spirit of thankfulness for such blessings as we have—without asking for definite things—we all might be much better off.

Roger W. Babson

What Prayers Are Answered

Although President Truman's reply did not satisfy Mr. Hebert, yet the President's retort was very sound. It looks as if he were a better Bible student than Mr. Hebert as his reply was based on the Bible promise that "The prayers of the righteous availeth much". This means that in order to have our prayers answered, we must live a life that Jesus would approve; with kindness, unselfishness and integrity. Jesus commanded that before we go to the altar to make our sacrifices and ask for blessings, we should first go to those whom we have wronged by act or word and secure their forgiveness, making restitution if possible. President Truman wisely hinted that this applies to most political leaders and to a large of voters. We cannot expect an answer to our prayers while playing politics or talking unjustly about officials. Furthermore, those who have been too lazy or indifferent to vote, have a poor case when praying for better government. I, therefore, am 100 per cent for President Truman in his reply to this and similar requests.

Must Be Recognized

Although the above discussion has ended, it has brought up a most interesting fact which the President and all others in authority must some day recognize. I have in mind how decisions of presidents, senators, congressmen and other federal, state and city officials are affected by other factors. We all know that our own decisions are definitely affected by our health and home relations, especially what we did the night before! Health and habit have been responsible for the enactment of much bad legislation, the rendering of unjust court decisions, resulting even in sending innocent men to prison or perhaps to the gallows. But let me this week discuss other causes in which Washington is getting interested. I even found the weather bureau looking up conditions on the day the President, through the United Nations, directed our troops to land in Korea. Based on the conditions of that day, I believe his decision was sound, even though we may later pull out all our troops. It was worth all that it has cost to "smoke out" the Russians and awaken our own people. It would be a wonderful way to start off the new year and the 82nd Congress.

Temperature and Humidity

Looking back over my life it is very evident that the two simple word "Yes" and "No" are of tremendous importance. My successes were due to saying "Yes" when I should say "Yes", or "No" when I should say "No"; while my failures have been due to saying "Yes" when I should have said "No", or "No" when I should not have said "No". Of course, I also needed the courage to stick to the right decision! But what determined these decisions of mine, in addition to the power of prayer, is whether I was leading a life to be classified as "righteous".

The weather at the time of these decisions has definitely influenced me. A hot and humid day will contribute to the wrong decision (even in an air-conditioned room); while a clear, dry day with a west wind will help me make a wise decision. But there must not be a strong wind to distract me. The reading of the barometer is also a factor, as we should make decisions only on the rising barometer. We should avoid making decisions when tired, ill or hurried. It is too bad that the officials and congressmen here in Washington, upon whose decisions the nation's future depends, must live in such a hurly-burly environment. Irrespective of the possibility of bombing, these men should be 30 or more miles from Washington with spacious grounds and gardens where they will be assured of quietness and, if needed, solitude also.

What About Gravity?

Any well-known physicist will tell you that your state of mind is related to the circulation of your blood, which is affected by the pull of gravity. This is one reason for the importance of correct posture whether walking, sitting or lying down. Swollen ankles, throbbing heads, and many other physical handicaps are lessened by changing our position so as to correct the gravity pull. This gravity pull applies to overweight, diet, lack of rest and other factors. I am not superstitious, but the diary which I have kept for many years demonstrates that most of my good ideas came during the "no-moon" periods; furthermore, most of my foolish ideas came to me during the "full-moon" periods.

I wish to avoid any dogmatic statements or to ask for any impractical things; but I do wish that the President would ask some qualified person, already on the payroll, to make a thorough study of the above and learn whether or not I am justified in these conclusions. But I am not content to let only one man think on these things; but would like to get everyone in authority to consider them. A concrete suggestion would be to have these daily statistics on temperature, humidity, wind, barometer and moon-phase printed on the front page of the Congressional Record EACH DAY. This would be no addition expense and could not be criticized by anyone.

Democrats To Seek $100,000 State Fund

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Democrats fixed their sights on a $100,000 operating fund for 1951 to keep the party functioning for the off-year elections which will be a prelude to presidential balloting in 1952.

The 14-member policy committee, which met yesterday with county and regional leaders at Harrisburg, fixed the goal which is to be reached via contributions through each organization.

Much of the money will be used to operate state committee headquarters at Harrisburg and to maintain liaison with national and county levels of the party.

TWO BOXES

NEW YORK — Polyna Stoska, Met soprano, observing that so many women attend concerts at which the music of Sibelius is featured, suggests that in line with the plan of the National Arts Foundation to collect money to buy cigars for the 85th birthday of the composer, that women cigar smokers contribute two boxes of stogies for Sibelius.

Victory Garden Idea For City Dwellers May Be Revived

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—(INS)—The Department of Agriculture is thinking today about putting hoes in the hands of city dwellers through the return of the victory garden.

The department held the first of a series of conferences Thursday to find out whether victory gardens should be encouraged this summer and if so, to what extent.

The meeting was called at the request of Paul Stark, a nursery man from Missouri and friend of President Truman, who ran the victory garden campaign after World War II to help provide food for Europe.

Agriculture Secretary Brannan has called a meeting for Jan. 22 and 23 of interested groups to discuss victory gardens pro and con. The conference will include representatives of garden clubs, seed firms, horticultural departments, truck garden journals, educators and others.

Stark would not commit himself when asked whether he would accept appointment to head another home garden campaign. He added that if such a program is launched again, "victory gardens" would probably be called something else, a name that still has to be drummed up.

During the two-day meeting, the council will discuss plans for next summer's religious ministry to agriculture migrants and report on a rural church survey in four selected counties.

Foreign Labor May Be Needed For Farm Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Government agencies are working today on plans to guarantee the nation's farmers adequate labor to produce record crops this year.

Agriculture and Labor Department officials are drawing up a program for presentation to Congress based on boosting farm manhour output as much as five percent above last year.

Officials said U. S. farms will need about five percent more work to produce enough to meet the nation's needs during the emergency.

Plans include importing foreign labor and longer working hours for farmers themselves. Highly reliable sources said that the new program will be drawn along the lines of the one in forces during World War II.

The program is expected to call for negotiating with nearby foreign governments for labor, bringing in workers, setting up foreign labor pools and sending foreign workers to where the work is needed—all at government expense.

May Require Thousands

Unofficial estimates of the number of foreign workers that will be required to fill farm needs this year range from 200,000 to 500,000 workers. The peak of foreign labor during the last war was about 250,000 workers, including prisoners of war.

It was learned that the U. S. will enter negotiations with the Mexican government at the end of this month to agree on terms under which Mexican labor can be brought into this country.

In addition to bringing in foreign workers, the Agriculture department is expected to launch a campaign encouraging farmers to help themselves to fill labor needs. They will be asked to share machinery, work longer hours and use school children where they can.

The new legislation also is expected to provide funds to shift U. S. workers from area to area where the trouble spots pop up.

Agriculture officials said they were "deeply concerned" about the possible farm labor shortage this year.

They say they are more worried about city factories siphoning off workers from the farm fields than they are about the number of men the armed forces will take. Higher factory wages already have started an exodus of workers from farms, some sources said.

Flu Epidemic In Britain Causes Extreme Concern

LONDON, Jan. 12—(INS)—An epidemic of grippe and flu which has caused the deaths of 3,000 persons in two weeks in the Liverpool area alone caused extreme concern today among British health authorities.

The siege of the virulent type of influenza has taken a heavy toll also in the industrial Manchester area of northwestern England and there are fears that the disease will spread to the south.

Liverpool authorities disclosed that burials in their district of victims of the epidemic averge about 250 daily. Weary grave diggers were forced to enlist the aid of park gardeners.

Former Mayor Of New York Will Be Called To Testify

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Brooklyn district attorney Miles McDonald said that former mayor William O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico, "definitely" will be called to testify before Brooklyn's racket-hunting grand jury.

The prosecutor also indicated that O'Dwyer might be asked to fill out a 23-page questionnaire regarding his personal finances. The special questionnaires were designed for some 300 policemen who already have testified before the grand jury.

McDonald said the controversial questionnaires "may be given to some public officials as well as the patrolmen, and explained:

"It could take in any former public official or former city employee. They would face contempt if they failed to answer."

McDonald, asked specifically if that meant O'Dwyer would be asked to complete a questionnaire, replied:

"The former mayor definitely will be called back by the grand jury. I have said that before. I will answer the question of the questionnaire when he is called back."

Volant Lions Hear Attorney Brown

Twenty-four members were present at the weekly meeting of the Volant Lions in the Methodist church. Two guests also attended, one, A. P. Furst, Jr., being admitted to membership during the evening. The other guest was C. E. McCune.

Guest speaker was Orville Brown, a New Castle attorney, who spoke on current international conditions as compared to these which existed at the time of World War II. Brown was well qualified to discuss matters pertaining to affairs in the Pacific area, having been stationed in Australia for some time. He told how the Chinese are fighting against us more vigorously than they did against the Japs. This was explained by the fact that they are better equipped for fighting now. The speaker was firm in his belief that Americans should learn to think longer before taking any action.

From reports given on the club's recent buckwheat supper, it was shown that Frank Barczyk's team came out the winners and will be guests of Elmer Brown's outfit at a hockey game in The Gardens in Pittsburgh. The date will be decided later.

Announcement was made that William J. Schwartz, of Rochester, Pa., will succeed District Goveror Spence in office.

Daughter Agrees That "Mother Knows Best"
Folks in the city and in the country often disagree on many things, but they all nod their heads in agreement when they hear the familiar quotation, "Mother knows best." Mothers seem to have a way of knowing what is best for their sons and daughters. For example, Mrs. R. H. Holder, 221 Columbus, Montgomery, Alabama, certainly agrees with this, for at one time Mrs. Holder was nervous and run-down—she felt miserable. Her mother recommended that she take HADACOL and now Mrs. Holder says, "Today, I feel wonderful, just wonderful, and I owe it to HADACOL." Mrs. Holder was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.
Mrs. Holder says: "I was nervous and run-down and I had lost weight and had no appetite—food just didn't interest me. I had aches and pains. I felt miserable. My mother started taking HADACOL and it did her so much good that I decided to give it a try. After the first bottle I noticed an improvement. After the second bottle I felt better. I have now taken 6 bottles and feel grand. I am no longer nervous or rundown. I have loads of energy. I have a big appetite and have regained the weight I had lost. No more aches or pains, either. Today I feel wonderful, just wonderful, and I owe it to HADACOL for it has done so much for me. I just can't praise it enough."

Restaurants Are O.K., Heess Says

Delivers Report To Councilman Davis

J. K. Heess, city chemist and sanitarian, has submited to Director Richard I. Davis, a report covering the condition of wells, springs, swimming pools, eating and drinking places and examination of milk sold here, during 1951. He reports restaurant conditions are good.

He reports that of 28 wells and springs tested, four of them were found unsafe for drinking purposes. He said the four springs in Cascade Park were found to be perfectly safe, but the well and spring in Gaston Park, unsafe.

Mr. Heess said that three samples of water were tested for the Girl Scouts camp, and two of them were found unsafe. Water used for drinking purposes at the Y. M. C. A. camp were found to be perfectly safe.

Some of the foregoing water was from non-city camps. However, usually when one is in doubt, samples are submitted to Mr. Heess who makes an analysis.

Swimming Pools

Relating to swimming pools, he reported:

"Weekly tests were made at all pools when they were being used. The chlorine at Ben Franklin junior high school was found to be low six times during the year. One of the tests did not show any chlorine and the bacteria count was very high. The chlorine at George Washington junior high school was found to be too low on one occasion. The chlorine at the Y. M. C. A. pool was too low on seven occasions and the bacteria was very high on two of these tests. The Cascade Park pools were in excellent condition each test showed."

Eating, Drinking Places

Sanitarian Heess reported: "I have given special attention to those whose record has not been up to par and the improvement in these places has been very good. I have made bacteria tests at least, once in all places, and several times in the places which I have given special attention."

He added that, "This restaurant condition has been a 'long and hard pull' but it is a great satisfaction to know the fine condition to be found in nearly every place in the city. All places should be checked occasionally, and there are still quite a number which will be still watched closely until such time as they have a good record for a longer period of time."

He concluded his report that the latest reports of bacteria counts do not show any places where all three tests were bad. He stated that the tests show 93 per cent good but adds that "this does not mean that seven per cent of the places were bad." He explains it by saying the reduction below 100 per cent was chiefly due to one or two of the three tests made in some places being above a "100 count."

"I do not believe we can ever expect a better than 93 per cent record as there will always be new employes who do not give the matter the proper attention. The utensils may become contaminated in handling and storage, after being sanitized. At present, we only have three places which need immediate attention and with them, progress is being made."

Milk and Cream

"All places were tested monthly and were found to be perfectly safe, at all times," the inspector reports.

Issue 175 Licenses

He reported the issuance of 175 licenses to eating and drinking places. All places, to obtain a license to sell intoxicants, must have a restauarnt. The city imposes a fee of one dollar for each license. Ten new places were opened in 1950, and 15 changed names. One changed location. Of the 175, sixty-five sell liquor or beer.

Five hundred and sixty inspections were made and 1,226 chemical tests were conducted and 1,685 bacteria tests were made. The tests concerned glasses, spoons and dishes. Drink and food handlers undergo a physical test by Superintendent of Health Dr. W. A. Womer.

BIDS AT STATE COLLEGE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12—(INS)—Bids totaling $1,714,807 were filed today with the General State Authority for construction of a chemistry laboratory on the campus at Pennsylvania State College.

The project also includes a storage building and an underground addition to Pond laboratory.

The GSA also announced that bids will be received February 7 for construction of an addition to the education building under the $9,000,000 improvement program underway at the college.

A-Bomb Experiment Area Designated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that President Truman has authorized use of an area in Nevada "for experiments necessary to the atomic weapons development program".

The AEC said that the area is a part of the 5,000-square mile Las Vegas bombing and gunnery range. It said use of this will provide a site for "periodic test work with a resultant speed-up" in the atomic program.

The announcement said: "Test activities at the new site will include detonation for the development of atomic bombs—so-called 'A-bombs'—carried out under controlled conditions."

The Coast Guard icebreaker Eastwind battled to within 445 nautical miles of the North Pole last summer, the farthest north in the Western Hemisphere ever traveled by a ship under its own power.

Says Motorists Have 'Lost Their Hands'

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Revenue secretary Otto F. Messner claims Pennsylvania's motorists figuratively have lost their hands.

"Many drivers seem to feel that giving hand and arm signals is simply optional," he pointed out. "But the law states definitely that they must indicate in advance when they are going to stop or in which direction they are going to turn."

He said the practice practically has vanished on the state's roads.

Expect Gehr To Testify Today

Man Charged With Killing His Wife Will Take Stand

CARMEL, N .Y., Jan. 12.—(INS)—Herbert Gehr is expected to take the stand today to tell his own story of the killing of his wife as she approached his mountain cottage for evidence of adultery for a divorce.

The 39-year-old television director will follow to the witness stand red-haired Mrs. Dorothea Matthews, his companion on the night of July 10 when he fired through a screen door, killing Andrea Gehr and wounding two detectives.

State Rests Case

The state rested its case after the dark-eyed beauty stepped off the stand yesterday. Although summoned as a prosecution witness, Mrs. Matthews remained loyal to Gehr in her testimony. She said she was so frightened that night that all she could report was that she "heard two shots".

Gehr maintains that he did not know it was his wife who was approaching, but thought there were prowlers outside.

After court adjourned, the now-divorced Mrs. Matthews told newsmen that she would never marry Gehr, saying, "It was not that kind of friendship."

A few minutes later, however, she created a flurry by demanding to see Gehr, who had been taken to a cell in the court building. Despite her pleas, Sheriff Frank Lyden refused to permit the visit.

State Farm Show To End Tonight

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The State Farm show will close its doors today on another colorful indoor exposition mirroring the diversity of Pennsylvania's multi-million dollar agriculture industry.

The 1949 attendance record of an estimated 580,000 persons is expected to be shattered by the time the 35th annual exposition closes at 6 p. m. Only 49,000 visitors need to stream through the 14 acres of exhibits today to equal the record.

Highlight of the day's activities will be the selling of prize-winning beef on the hoof and lambs, including 4-H entries, for premium prices in the main arena. Seventy-eight tons of beef and two tons of lamb will go on the block.

Grand Champion Award

Yesterday, the grand champion baby beef award went to 13-year old Mary Jean Graybill, of Manheim, who exhibited a 1140-pound Aberdeen-Angus. She also won the Grand champion award for the best pen of lambs.

The Pennsylvania Dairymen's Assiciation adopted a resolution critical of the selective service system for not forming a definite plan on agriculture deferments for key workers facing a military draft. Loss of key personnel, the association pointed out, will jeopardize food production.

The associatiin also adopted resolutions opposing legalization of colored oleomargarine sales and calling for farmers to "carefully consider all possible implications before joining labor organizations."

Father Of Mimi Medart Dies In Paris Hotel Fall

PARIS, Jan. 12.—(INS)—William S. Medart, prominent St. Louis restaurant proprietor and manufacturer and the father of Mimi Medart whose name was linked romantically last year with King Farouk of Egypt, died today in a fall from his Paris hotel room.

Miss Medart said that her father "fell out" of his room on the fifth floor of the Hotel Continental and that his body landed in the street.

The St. Louis girl, who had been seen in the company of Egypt's King at Biarritz and Monte Carlo, said:

"He did not know what he was doing. He was in a rage.

"But it was an accident. This tragedy came as a complete surprise."

Miss Medart said that at the time of the incident she and her mother as well as her 20-year old brother Edward were in the Hotel Continental suite.

The Paris newspaper Le Monde said that Medart was overcome with an obsession over the possibility of atomic war and that his son had tried to calm him before the fall occurred.

McGrath Steps Out Of Cabinet Picture

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Allegheny County GOP Chairman L. Pat McGrath today stepped aside from consideration for appointment to the cabinet of Governor-elect John S. Fine.

A spokesman for Fine said a letter had been received from McGrath stating that he did not wish to resign as county chairman in line with a condition of the governor-elect was said to have placed upon appointees.

"I appreciate your consideration of me for a place in your cabinet," McGrath's letter stated. "But in view of your requirement that it would be necessary for me to resign as county chairman in order to qualify for the appointment, I feel that under the circumstances it would be very unwise for me to allow my name to be further considered.

"I have just been elected county chairman," he added, "and I am confident that the rank and file of the county committeemen prefer to have me remain as chairman."

Neither McGrath nor the governor-elect's spokesman specified what cabinet post had been offered.

Plymouth For 1951 Arrives

New Castle's authorized Plymouth dealers, Chambers Motor company, Grant at Shenango street; Morgan Motor company, 217 North Jefferson street, and the J. R. Rick Mootr company, 470 East Washington street, will show the stunning new 1951 Plymouth in their display rooms on Saturday, January 13.

Speacular new qualities which produce driving and riding ease heretofore unknown in automobiles of any price feature the new line of Plymouth cars. Engineers say the new "safety-flow ride" takes the bounce and wallop out of bumps. Hydraulic flow control changes make for a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections.

In addition to the beautified lines of the '51 Plymouth, numerous mechanical changes have been made, including electrically operated windshield wipers, pressure vent radiator cap, built in by-pass cooling system, increased generator output, new hand brake "T" control handle. Interior designs include handsome new instrument panels, chair height seats and finest selection of upholstery.

Nine body types are included in the new Plymouth line. Among the "higher priced car" features retained are six cylinder, 97 horsepower engines wtih a 7 to 1 compression ratio, the cobination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super cushion tires, safeguard hydraulic brakes and safety rim wheels.

Splendid reports were heard from the following committee chairmen: Eucharistic—Rita Prioletti, who spoke on the Holy Family; Ann Scarazzo spoke on family prayer movement; Ada Marcatuli spoke on the block rosary and asked the question: "Can Your Family Fit into the Pattern of the Holy Family?"

Reports continued with a talk on St. Agnes, second patroness of the Sodality by Lucy Chirumbolo. Mary Marcella, chairman introduced the speaker. Apostolic chairman, Charlotte Forconi spoke on Plenary and Partial indulgences. Others who contributed remarks were Eva Malley and Delores Malizia. An explanation of the new Sodality emblem was given by Teresa D'Ettore.

Mildred Scungio spoke on the Purification, and Catholic Truth chairman, Rita Cherby directed a skit on Good Books to Read. BRINGING UP FATHER — By GEORGE McMANUS

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12—Rhonda Fleming is once more a gorgeous redhead and busy trying to make her hips behave now that she has finished her role as the "sexiest woman in the world" in Universal-International's "Little Egypt."

The luscious Rhonda had her tresses dyed jet black for the title role in the picture as the gal whose hootchy-kootchy dance was the sensation of the 1893 Chicago Columbian Exposition.

What's more she had to learn to swing and sway with the hips for the undulating carnaval dance.

"The dancers the studio got to teach me the hootchy-kootchy were so good that I can't forget the hip-swinging business now that the picture is finished," says Rhonda.

"I practically slither along the sidewalk and it is no wonder that people stop to look."

Nice Hootching

Rhonda, who hootchy-kootched for three straight days, eight hours per day, during the making of the dance sequences, claims that after looking at the rushes of her dancing, she is convinced that a little hip swinging is not a bad thing at all.

"As a matter of fact," says the film star, "the trouble with American women is that they don't swing their hips enough when they walk. After looking at the rushes I realized that nice hip sways can be very charming.

"Then I watched other girls walking along the streets and noticed how straight and 'unhippy' they handle themselves. What's more it is a healthy bit of business. It will promote a nicer figure or protect the one you already have. Walking is the greatest exercise in the world, but 'it won't mean a thing if it ain't got that swing.'"

Rhonda thinks that the picture will do wonders for her screen career, as hitherto she has been identified in films when the heavy is around and gives the hero a peck in the final reel.

"They have everything in the picture," she exclaims, "I dance and dance and dance and have one romance after another. I am even hauled into court on a charge of indecent exposure."

State Police Say:

Winter driving presents many hazards for drivers. Among these are frosted, steamed or snow-covered windshields and windows which reduce visibility to a minimum. In some cases your vision is limited to the arc swept clean by the windshield wiper. Extreme care should be taken in such cases, and hand signals before pulling into traffic, making turns, stopping, etc., are good precautions.

Demonstrations In Pruning Listed

Two pruning demonstrations are listed for Tuesday, January 16, by the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association.

The first of these will be at 10 a. m. at the orchard of Robert Greene, corner of the old Pittsburgh road and the Gardner road, near the radio tower in Shenango township.

The second will be at the orchard of Russell McFarland on the New Wilmington-Pulaski road at 2 p. m.

John Reuf, extension fruit specialist of Penn State college, will be present to conduct the demonstration, and will show how, why and when to prune. Apples and other fruits will be discussed.

It is also announced that the annual fruit growers meeting will take place on Thursday, January 18, in the YMCA.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A prosecuting attorney had been subjecting a witness for the defense to a gruelling cross examination. Suddenly he rasped, "I understand that you called on the defendant. Exactly what did he tell you?" "Objection," interrupted counsel for the defense. "Evidence as to conversation by others is inadmissible."

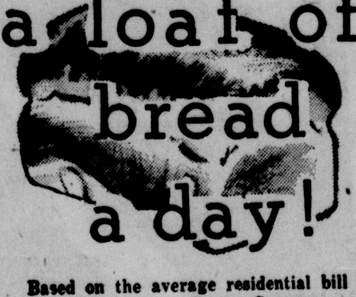

After a long argument, the judge declared a recess to consider the point, and announced three hours later that he deemed the question proper. "Aha!" gloated the prosecuting attorney. "You will now tell the jury precisely what the defendant said." The witness answered calmly, "He wasn't home."

The coach of a scrub football team at a jerkwater college warned the fullback, "Watch your step out on that field today. There's going to be an Army scout in the stands noting every move you make." "I just don't understand," wondered the fullback. "We haven't played Army for twenty years. Why should they want to scout a bunch like us?" The coach explained gently, "This scout, son, seems to be from the Draft Board."

Tide Of Toys Drive Extended

Campaign To End On January 20th

Perry S. Gaston Post's Tide of Toys campaign, to secure toys for the needy children of Europe, has been extended until January 20, chairman Pat Cosgrove announced today.

The response to the appeal has not been as good this year as last, he stated, and local folks who wish to contribute to this campaign of goodwill, are asked to make their contributions as soon as possible.

The toys collected throughout the state must be in Philadelphia by January 27, Mr. Cosgrove has been informed.

New or used toys which are in good condition are being sought, and can be brought to the Legion Home, or taken to any of the city fire stations, where they will be assembled later and shipped to their destination. A message of greeting may be attached to each toy contributed, chairman Cosgrove states, so the recipient will know who donated the articles.

If unable to bring the article to the Legion Home, 134 North Jefferson street, a phone call there will result in the articles being picked up by some member of the American Legion.

Zoldak Refuses To Return Here

Extradition May Be Asked For Man Held By Youngstown Police

Al Zoldak of Youngstown, alleged to be one of three men who secreted burglar tools and a loaded revolver on The Gables property, West Grant street, early Monday morning, was quizzed by Detectives Boyle and Sigler of the city force and Klebe of the county yesterday at Youngstown.

He denied being here and refused to return voluntarily to face charges here.

Zoldak, when asked how his car happened to be here, and which was found by police, said his friends "often borrowed it."

However, detectives say they can prove he was here, and added that if he fails to return voluntarily within the next few days, extradition will be sought.

Meanwhile, his two alleged accomplices, Joe Hroblak of Youngstown, and John Keenan of Canfield, are held in the county jail on charges of possessing burglar tools and a loaded revolver. They have not yet been arraigned.

Pittsburgh detectives have asked police here to fire a couple of shots from the revolver in an effort to establish if it was the gun used in an attempted holdup in Pittsburgh last April. Keenan has been charged with the offense, and pending trial was given his liberty under $15,000 bail, police say.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

Order Considered To Reduce Octane Ratings Of Auto Gas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The government disclosed today that an order soon will be issued reducing the octane ratings of automobile gasoline.

Interior Secretary Chapman announced that the changes to be made in gasoline composition will not materially affect engine performance although spark timing in late model cars with high compression motors may have to be adjusted.

Chapman said the petroleum administration for defense is now working on the plan and will discuss the situation with the oil industry at a meeting Jan. 22.

Under the present proposal, the government would limit premium grade motor fuel to an octane rating of 90, intermediate grade to 86 and regular grade to 84.

The change is designed to reduce consumption of tetraethyl lead now in short supply, and compared with average ratings this fall of 91 for premium fuel, and 84.4 for regular grade.

Tetraethyl lead is the active ingredient in anti-knock compounds used in the production of both major and aviation gasoline.

Physicians Will Be Registered In State January 15

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—State selective service director Henry M. Gross reported today that Pennsylvania's local draft boards have completed plans to register more than 16,000 physicians, dentists and veterinarians Jan. 15.

The registrants will include all medical men under 50 years old who did not sign up October 16, Gross said.

Registration is scheduled to take place at local board offices between eight a. m. and five p. m.

"If a registrant happens to be away from his place of residence on registration day, he may register at the nearest local board convenient, said Gross.

The registration is in accordance with the doctors and dentists draft act passed by Congress on September 9, 1950. To remedy the critical shortage of medical personnel in the armed services, he said.

In the special registration in October, Gross said, 939 doctors signed up in Pennsylvania of a national total of 21,000. All were in priority one, which includes men trained at government expense or deferred during the war to complete their training and with less than 21 months subsequent service.

Fifteen-year-old Dolores Iwanejko, of 1511 Morris street, has been missing from home since January 5, according to a brother's report to police. She is described as follows: height, five feet, three inches; hair, brown; eyes, gray; coat, black; dress, black, and sandals, black.

Two Are Killed In Double Accident

UNIONDALE, N. Y., Jan. 12.—(INS)—A car struck and killed a woman last night. Then the car was hit by a second auto and crashed into a man, killing him, too.

A woman identified by papers in her handbag as Anna Smith, police said, was killed by a car driven by William Johnson, 20.

Several persons rushed toward the woman and a second car, driven, police added, by Frank J. Damiano, 45, rammed the first car and drove it into the group.

Meyer Cohen, 55, was killed and three other persons were injured.

Johnson and Damiano were taken to the Uniondale police station for questioning.

PRICE FREEZE ASKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The New York dress industry, representing 80 per cent of the nation's dress manufacturers, asked the government Thursday for an immedaite overall price freeze to hold the line on retail cost of women's dresses.

Top figures in the New York garment industry said they could not continue to hold down prices on women's dresses if a price freeze on all cost of living items is not imposed immediately.

Board Will Probe Charges Against Pittsburgh Woman

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Judge Samuel A. Weiss of Allegheny county court said he will appoint an impartial board of three attorneys to invesigate and report on charges that Mrs. Marjorie Matson, an assistant district attorney, harbors "communist sympathies".

The accusation linking Mrs. Matson with communists was voiced by State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, who demanded that District Attorney William S. Rahauser of Allegheny county dismiss her from his staff.

Judge Weiss said he would appoint the committee of lawyers following a petition made by Mrs. Matson yesterday asking that three members of the bar association "make a full and complete investigation of all materials and evidence which may be available from any source."

Henry Armstrong and Fritzie Zivic drew the largest single Garden attendance, 23,190, in 1941. They were hanging on the rafters that night.

Drops in attendance at eastern football games has Hugh Devore, the New York university football coach, chasing an old, old dream. He wants to form an athletic conference of eastern colleges.

WINTER CARE OF FLOWER PLANTS

Some suggestions for flower gardeners for this time of year are: Use discarded Christmas tree boughs as cover for the perennial border. Discarded Christmas trees may be placed in an upright position in a bucket of sand in some section of the garden, where it can be used as a feeding station for birds.

If a poinsettia arrived at the holidays, water it thoroughly. Keep it in full sunlight in a temperature of not more than 70 degrees, not over 55 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit at night. Poor lighting conditions, extreme fluctuations of temperature, too low humidity, or improper watering may cause the poinsettia leaves to drop. It is not recommended that poinsettias be carried over for the second year except where the plants can be kept in a conservatory.

A mimeograph leaflet "Care of Christmas Plants in the Home" is available at the Extension Office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle, and tells how to prolong the enjoyment of these plants.

"Care of Spring Flowering Potted Plants in the Home" and "House Plants" are two other publications which may be secured from the Agricultural Extension Office, upon request.

PROVIDE LAYERS WITH AMPLE NESTS

When pullets begin to lay heavily they need plenty of nests. A shortage of nests will result in more floor-laid eggs, as well as broken soiled eggs, and may promote fighting in the nests. Also, cannibalism and egg eating may develop as serious problems.

Ordinarily, one nest to every five hens will be enough, although one nest to every three hens will be better in small flocks. In any case, a few extra nests when the flock is laying heavily will be beneficial in preventing trouble. Why the layers prefer some nests to others is a puzzle. Until poultrymen know more about such traits of the hen, the safe approach from the management standpoint is to supply ample facilities for the layers.

Moreover, replenishing the nest litter often will help reduce trouble from broken and soiled eggs. Pullets which have learned to use nests before housing or before production starts will be less likely to kick out litter materials.

Properly constructed nests will be deep enough to reduce the amount of litter material which can be kicked out by the fowls. Nests should be at least 4 inches deep. Clean shavings, sawdust, or sifted crushed corncobs are satisfactory nesting materials easily available to many Lawrence county poultrymen.

Frequent gathering of eggs helps to reduce trouble at the nests. Gather at least three times daily. Gathering oftener at that time of day when the flock is laying its heaviest will cut down extra work of cleaning soiled eggs and losses from breakage.

Providing a brood coop in each pen helps improve egg quality and makes more nests available. Narrow perches on nests, feeders, and water fountains reduce soiling of hens' feet which means less soiling of eggs in the nests.

Date Is Set For State Sheep Sale

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—The Pennsylvania Sheep & Wool Growers Association at its annual meeting held at the farm show decided to drop its annual bred ewe sale and instead concentrate efforts on the Keystone stud ram and ewe sale, the date for which was fixed for July 9 and 10 in Harrisburg.

Because of the demand for good sheep and their scarcity the present situation does not warrant two sales, according to association officials.

McGill P.T.A. Hears Dr. J. Calvin Rose

"Parents, whether Jewish, Catholic or Protestant, must give to their children a strong faith in order to adequately equip them to meet today's changing world," was the keynote of an address by Dr. J. Calvin Rose before the Arthur McGill PTA at their meeting Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

Dr. Rose based his opinions on impressions received during his recent trip to Europe where he saw the results of modern warfare. He feels that the security derived from a strong faith is very essential in the development of today's children and that this responsibility rests on the home. Children must experience and feel security before they can be expected to do their best in the classrooms.

The group also enjoyed three vocal numbers by James Gibson. Mr. Gibson was introduced and accompanied by Mrs. Jacob Jordan.

E. O. Feass presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Dudley Arnold announced that the February meeting will be a forum discussion for each grade level. The prize for attendance was given to Miss Martin's home room.

Moral rearmament is the one hope for the peace of the world, in the opinion of delegates who attended the recent MRA National Assembly in Washington, D. C.

Moral rearmament is styled as an "international, non-government movement which seeks to settle conflicts between groups and nations by moral principles".

Delegates to the assembly included representatives from 22 countries and the United States. From Lawrence county Mr. and Mrs. James A. McLaughry, sons James and William and daughter Mary Beth attended.

Advocates of moral rearmament believe that if applied, the principles of MRA will solve disputes between nations, between employers and employes and bring genuine peace, both political and economic, to the world.

Shenango-Taylor P.T.A. Has Program

Members of the Shenango-Taylor Parent-Teachers' Association assembled at the school building on Thursday evening for their monthly meeting. The P. T. A. prayer was read by Mrs. Jacobs.

J. Knapp was in charge of the evening's program, with Carl Esposito, Martin Ceremele, Joseph Bulisco Jr., and David Pallerino entertaining on their accordions. A piano selection was offered by Darlene Berkley.

A penny march closed the evening, and refreshments were later served to the group.

The next meeting will be held February 8 at which time Founder's Day will be commemorated.

The story of Cinderella can be found in one form or another everywhere in European folklore.

Aliquippa High Risks 11-Game Winning Streak Here Tonight

Wampum At East Brook Tonight; Bessemer Has Important Game

Wampum meets East Brook on the East Brook floor tonight in the feature game of tonight's Section 23 schedule. In other important games Bessemer lays its perfect league record on the line at Shenango and Union travels to Mt. Jackson for fight for the basement.

Tonight's game will be the stiffest test for Butler Hennon's Indians in league play this season. Wampum had little trouble downing Shenango and Union and should go into tonight's game as favorites.

The Eagles, on the other hand, lost their opener to Bessemer easily downed Union, but had a tough time in getting past Shenango. East Brook has the home floor advantage, however, and in the county section, where all floors vary in size, this advantage is often quite important.

Eagles Won In 1941

East Brook last defeated Wampum on December 23, 1941, on the East Brook floor by a 40-36 score. Carl Jameson was the big gun for the Eagles in that game with 18 points. Coy Craine had 16 for Wampum.

Since that time East Brook never came close until last year, when it lost 45-36 and 68-62 to the Indians.

Bessemer faces a tough assignment at Shenango, where it meets the Wildcats, always dangerous on their home floor. The Cementers have proved the surprise of the league to date, but need a win tonight to keep in the scramble.

Mt. Jackson and Union are both seeking league win No. 1 tonight at Mt. Jackson. The Mounties will be minus the services of two varsity crewmen because of injuries. Chuck Rogers and Dick Peloza are both out with sprained ankles.

New Wilmington is idle.

Northwestern' passing combination of quarterback Dick Flowers and end Don Stonesifer put three new records in the Western Conference annals during the 1950 football season.

Shenango Y Edges Mt. Jackson Indies

Twin City Elks of Sharon and Farrell handed Universal-Rundle a stunning 78-53 setback Thursday night at the YMCA floor. In the preliminary game the Shenango Y edged the Mt. Jackson Indies 44-41.

Universal played good ball in the first and third quarters against the vaunted colored team, but folded in the second and fourth quarters. At the end of the half Twin City led 39-30 and at the end of the third quarter the locals were still within striking distance at 58-48.

John Hammond, former Farrell high school star, was leading scorer with 20 points. Fred Wimer paced the locals with 17.

In the preliminary contest the Shenango Y came from behind to down the Mt. Jackson Indies. Alexander and Brown divided 26 points for the winners. Bill Emery scored 19 for Mt. Jackson.

Sentence Hunter To Serve One Year

Frank R. Sweeney of Oil City was sentenced yesterday by Venango County Court Judge Lee A. McCracken to serve a year in jail for shooting "a man being in mistake for a game animal." The judge also revoked Sweeney's hunting rights for five years and ordered him to pay the victim $500. Sweeney pleaded guilty to firing the shot that wounded Curry Harrah, 14, of Franklin on the opening day of the deer season.

Wampum Grade School Tops Lincoln-Garfield

Wampum grade school defeated Lincoln-Garfield 26-19 Wednesday afternoon at Lincoln-Garfield school. Before the game majorettes from the Lincoln-Garfield school formed a "W", lead in a number of cheers and put on a marching show at halftime.

PULASKI FIVE WIN

The Pulaski Five defeated the Campbell K. P. team 77 to 74 with Sava starring with 26 points. J. Malys led the losers with 34 points. The Pulaski team is made up of 18 to 22 year olds. For games call 8238-R2 any time Saturday afternoon. The team has won four games.

Bill Leckonby, coach of Lehigh's first unbeaten grid team, has urged restoration of the fair catch rule in intercollegiate football.

Hurricanes To Challenge Record And Reputation Of Valley Indians

Aliquippa, section III pace-setter, and only team in the WPIAL unbeaten this season will bring to the George Washington gym tonight, an 11 game winning streak, and a five year jinx over the local Hurricanes.

Not since 1945 has a New Castle basketball team won from the Quips. The valley Indians have drubbed the locals 10 straight times.

Brothers Rival Coaches

This, also, will be the first floor meeting of brothers Sam and John Milanovich.

Sam at Aliquippa, has compiled an enviable record since inheriting the coaching reins in 1948. His squad then, went the entire season without a defeat, while running up 29 consecutive victories and a state championship.

Two Regulars

Dom Stala and Rich Billingslea, regulars from last season, are back to lead this year's team. Billingslea, negro, set shot leads the Indians in section scoring, pocketing 12 against Beaver Falls, and 20 against Sharon.

Backing up this pair are Len Popps, 5'11", Milan Markovich 5'10", Frank Hribar 6'2", Lou Horvath 6'2", Francis Ceravola and George Skorich, 6 footers; Stala is 6'1", Billingslea 5'11".

The Quips, like New Castle, employ a man-for-man defense, rapidly becoming popular in this section, and a loose but effective offensive. The visitors, at one time this season, averaged more than 65 shot attempts per game, which is remarkable for high school ball.

Sansone Leads

John Sansone, floor general of the Canes, has pushed to the front in local section scoring. His three-game total in league play is 42 points. Boak with 31, Bucker with 28, and Latsko with 25 follow in New Castle scoring.

An upset win for the Canes this evening would place the locals in an excellent league position and one in which New Castle hasn't enjoyed since 1948.

Not since then has a New Castle squad won more than two league games consecutively. The Canes in 1948 posted a seven and five-league record under Bill Douglas, and then, lined up five straight wins in temporarily occupying first place.

Coach John Milanovich tonight is sending his cagers after season win number eight and section win number three. His pupils have lost twice to non-league foes, and once in the league.

An excellent Cane jayvee squad, losers only to Duquesne and Farrell, will also undergo severe testing against the Quip's reserves.

City Junior Highs Meet This Afternoon In WPIAL Contest

George Washington and Benjamin Franklin junior high schools meet this afternoon at the George Washington floor, in the first of the two annual meetings between the teams.

Washington goes into the game as slight favorites on the basis of pre-season and league conests played. The Little Presidents, though losing to Sharon in their league opener, have compiled an outstanding record, while the Patriots have enjoyed only mediocre success.

Franklin won both games between the teams last year by 38-32 and 30-29 scores.

In other Section 16 Junior WPIAL games Union is at Butler and Sharon at Farrell.

Fail To Curb Broadcasting

Minor Leagues Given Brushoff

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—(INS)—Minor League pleas to curb the broadcasting of Major League baseball games in their territory had a little more than an old-fashioned brushoff today from the National League.

Senior circuit owners voted yesterday to set up a supervising agency to handle the details governing broadcasting arrangements outside the Major League area, but aside from this, nothing was done to curb the piping of games to the Minor League cities.

Vote Extra Day

The owners also voted to recommend that televising of games be confined to local stations. But aside from the World Series and the All-Star game, this is what has existed all along.

On the positive side of the agenda, the league voted to add another day to the schedule to provide a playoff date for postponed games if one is necessary to decide the pennant. The American League proposal, adopted at the St. Petersburg, Fla., meetings, provides for two days added to the schedule.

Boosters Win From Butler Squad, 47-44

East Brook Boosters, last night squeezed past the Butler Belmont Bullets at the Deshon Hospital floor in Butler.

The Boosters trailed at halftime but went ahead in the third period and held to go on to win. Ralph Manzo again paced the East New Castle team with 14 points.

East Brook will meet a strong Sharon Westinghouse squad at East Brook Saturday night at 8:15. The Brookers will play at 7:15 in the preliminary game.

Ezzard Charles May Put Oma In Coma In Title Go Tonight

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—Lee Oma, who has spent most of his fight career either on the decline or the recline, walks into the title-defending buzzsaw of Heavyweight Champ Ezzard Charles tonight at Madison Square Garden. The odds suggest Charles will put Oma in a coma.

Ezzard's sixth defense of the title belt he won in a run-off gavot with Joe Walcott 19 months ago sees him favored at something like 5 to 1. Already winner over Gus Lesnevich, Pat Valentino, Freddie Beshore, Joe Louis and Nick Barone, Charles is 2 to 1 to end tonight's bout inside the 15-round limit.

Expect 10,000 Crowd

Adding Oma to his generally undistinguished gallery of victims may not do too much for Charles artistically, but his 40 per cent cut of the gate will be handy. Despite the lure of radio and television, tonight's offering is expected to draw $60,000 or more at the windows, nearing about 10,000 people in the Garden.

For his part, Oma will receive 17½ per cent of the take and, if necessary, the able attention of the department of hospitals. The 34-year-old Detroiter, who now has adopted Buffalo, N. Y., as his home, has shown flashes of talent in his time. He is not sure, in fact, quite how good he is, since this is practically the first fight he ever regarded seriously.

"This," he reflected the other day, "is the chance of a lifetime." The statement did not change the odds.

Charles, a dark, lean whip expected to be at his best fighting weight of 185 pounds, will find in Oma something of the kind of fighter Walcott was—and is. Oma frequently is at his best while moving backwards.

Oma Can Punch

However, Lee is said to carry a punch. His victims include Tami Mauriello, Joe Baksi, Tommy Gomez and Lesnevich. He knocked out the last-named in four rounds.

On the other hand, he once lost to a man named Henry Flakes twice within ten days, and had one stretch in 1941 where he was knocked out by Johnny Denson in the fourth round, knocked out by Jack Marshall in the first round, and knocked out by Panther Williams, also in the first round.

Directly thereafter, the boxing people suspended him for what they termed "unsatisfactory performance."

He may or may not be satisfactory tonight. But at an expected 192 pounds, he should be in shape.

NEW YORK—The Yanks should rack up another pennant next year, although the American League figures to be much stronger and the Red Sox, Tigers and Indians are still the team to beat.

Beaglers Elects Officers Sunday

Members of the Shenango Valley Beagle club will elect 1951 officers January 14, at the club house, near Volant, and the annual banquet will be held February 3, according to Secretary John Greer.

The trial, scheduled last Sunday, was postponed because of weather conditions. Rabbits have not fared good during recent weather, Greer reports.

Dodgers And Giants Sign Hurling Stars

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Pitcher Ralph Branca was included in the Brooklyn Dodger fold for 1951 today and pitchers Al Gettel, George Bamberger and Norman Fox were listed as signed by the New York Giants.

Lakers Trounce Tri-Cities Five

The Minneapolis Lakers are back in first place in the National Basketball Association's Western division, and it may be some time before they are dislodged.

The Lakers edged the Tri-Cities Blackhawks in a free-scoring game last night, 113 to 109, while their closest competitors, the Rochester Royals, lost to the Philadelphia Warriors, 82 to 79.

The Lakers lead Rochester by a full game, which is the largest margin separating the two teams in some time.

In the only other game played last night, Fort Wayne defeated Syracuse, 84 to 76.

There is no definite evidence of bells before the Christian era.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JOE LOUIS became a popular heavyweight champion because of his ability, his conduct in and out of the ring and his activity.

His successor, Ezzard Charles, following in the footsteps of his idol, Louis, hopes to become a popular champion by the same tokens—ability, conduct and activity.

Charles doesn't possess the punching power of Louis, which made the Brown Bomber such a favorite with boxing fans, but he does have ability. He has shown good conduct in and out of the ring.

As for his activity, he is moving along at a faster pace than did Louis, who compiled an all-time record of 25 title defenses.

For the sixth time Charles is putting his title on the block tonight against Lee Oma, a veteran performer from Detroit. He is a 1-4 underdog in the betting.

Charles has possessed the crown (the NBA version first) only since June 22, 1949.

Since that time Charles kayoed Gus Lesnevich, Pat Valentino and Freddie Beshore and won decisions over Louis himself and Nick Barone.

Compare the records of ring defenses of other heavyweights with those of Louis and Charles and you are amazed at the variance.

The great Jack Dempsey only defended his crown six times.

Gene Tunney, Jess Willard, James J. Corbett, and Max Schmeling put their titles on the block but twice. James J. Braddock, Jack Sharkey and Bob Fitzsimmons only defended their titles once.

Naturally any comparison between the champs of recent years and the old favorites brings up the matter of competition.

Many will say that Louis defended his crown against a "lot of bums" among others. And the heavyweight competition today is not compared with what it was in the golden age of sports.

Yet the fact remains that Louis, and now Charles, are real fighting champions.

GOVERNOR-ELECT JOHN FINE is committed to the pure streams idea of Governor James Duff, hence it appears likely that the state may take action to correct an alleged unsanitary condition here. According to reports, a sportsman alleged to the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen he discovered sewage flowing from a storm sewer into the Shenango river. The council, in turn, notified Fish Commission Protector Betts, who in turn has notified state health bureau officials of the report, hence an investigation is in prospect. It is believed that the sewage comes from Neshannock township through a city storm sewer on the North Hill. . . . Eagles and Rams are deadlocked for first place in the JB night turn bowling league for the fourth week, second half. The Bears, Lions, Steelers and Colts follow in order named. College Bigwigs Discussing 'Sanity Code' In Dallas

By CLAYT KAUFMAN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 12.—Collegiate sports chieftains wade into the "sanity code" controversy today at the first business session of the week-long National Collegiate Athletic Association convention in Dallas.

A free-for-all verbal battle has been brewing all week on the question of enforcing or abolishing the code, which regulates financial aid to athletes.

May Scuttle Code

Proponents of liberalization have rallied under the flag of Dixie and believe they have enough strength to scuttle the code before nightfall.

The Liberals will attempt to adopt a proposal by the Southern Conference that would abolish the code and return financial assistance matters to individual conferences and schools.

The Southern Circuit idea is one of five amendments that will be submitted. A two- third majority is required to alter the NCAA constitution.

NCCA officials expect representatives from between 215 ond 218 institutions and conferences to participate in the balloting.

Penn State's Rip Engle is a popular after-dinner speaker. He'll attend football banquets nightly until his departure December 19 for the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala. He's a member of the North coaching staff.

Horned toads range from British Columbia into Mexico.

Hornets-Caps Hockey Winners

(By International News Service)

The Indianapolis Caps, last season's American Hockey League champions, are having a hard time just keeping out of the cellar this season.

The Caps had to come from behind to whip Cincinnati, 3-1, last night to barely climb out of last place in the circuit's Western Division.

The Pittsburgh Hornets trimmed the Hershey Bears, 3-2, in a penalty-splattered game to keep the Hornets in the runnerup spot in the Western Division.

There are no game scheduled for tonight.

Jockey Shoemaker Suffers Injury

ARCADIA, Cal. Jan. 12—(INS)—Jockey Willie Shoemaker, coholder of the national riding record, was under treatment today for a knee sprain that may keep him off the track for several days.

The jockey was injured yesterday in a spectacular three-horse spill during the sixth race at Santa Anita.

His mount, Huon Kid, slipped on the stretch turn, and took Princess' Bid and Golden Glory down with him.

Fulks Scores 30 As Warriors Win

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Jumpin' Joe Fulks tallied 30 points last night as the Philadelphia Warriors retained first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by beating the Rochester Royals, 82-79, at Convention Hall.

Fulks, who took 28 shots during the game, made six of his first eight and 10 of 19 in the first half. His teammate, Paul Arizin, former Villanova All-America, scored 20 points.

Bradley Loses Top Ranking

Bow To St. Johns In Garden, 68-59

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The dazed Bradley Braves were dispossessed from their tepee atop the nation's college basketball standings today and Long Island university put in its bid for that vaunted position.

Bradley encountered its New York "hex" last night and was rudely battered from the ranks of the unbeaten, 68-59 by the Stalwalt defense of St. John's at Madison Square Garden.

Long Island Wins

The Peoria, Ill., Braves, who had gone 15 straight games without a loss this season and had copped the Sugar Bowl championship, were completely stymied by the close-guarding Redman. The last time the Braves encountered defeat—the last two times in fact—was in this same arena.

They bowed in last season's NIT and NCAA finals to City College of New York. The Beavers, who have been finding things rough this season, dropped their fifth game in eleven starts last night, 63-59, to Boston college.

While all this was going on LIU won its eleventh straight, 79-45 over Ithaca. Thus the Blackbirds put in their bid for top ranking.

Canadiens Trim Blackhawks, 4-1

Maurice Richard's 25th and 26th goals of the season paced the Montreal Canadiens to a 4 to 1 win over the Chicago Blackhawks last night, and gave the Canadiens sole occupancy of third place.

Richard, the National Hockey league's top goal-getter, scored both tallies in the last period. Glen Harmon and Elmer Lach contributed the other goals.

Roy Conacher spoiled goalie Gerry McNeil's shutout bid early in the third period.

Other teams did not play.

Pittsburgh Signs Herman As Coach

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Manager Bill Meyer added a former Major Leaguer to his Pittsburgh Pirate coaching staff today by appointing Floyd (Babe) Herman to handle traffic at first base.

Former Brooklyn coach Milt Stock was appointed yesterday to coach at third base.

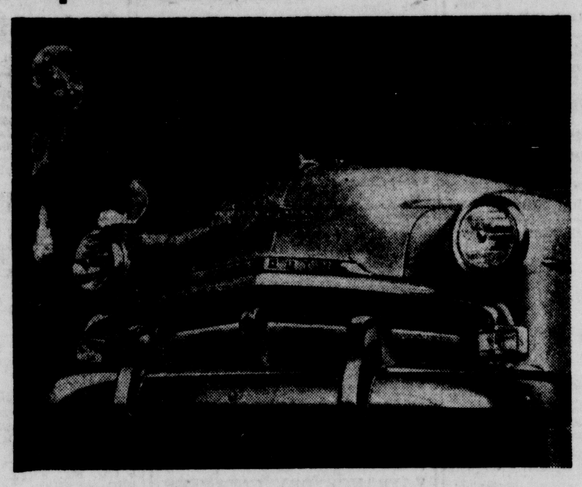

Herman served as the Bucs' West Coast scout the last five years. He played nine seasons with Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati during his Major League career.

Bob Wright, a 6-ft. 5-in. sophomore center prospect on the 1950-51 Michigan State basketball team, never played high school basketball in his home town of Hartselle, Ala., learning the rudiments of the game as a Spartan freshman.

Vic Janowicz, Ohio State all-America who performed every chore but the water boy's was 1950 high scorer in the Western Conference and also topped the league in total offense.

Daniel Boone led axmen blazing the Wilderness road through Cumberland Gap in 1775.

Charge Pearson Quoted Excerpts From Secret Files

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The Army announced today that it has established that columnist Drew Pearson quoted excerpts from secret messages on Dec. 30.

Army Secretary Pace said the matter is being "actively investigated". He said, however, that the messages were not coded and therefore would not enable an enemy to solve our Army coding system.

The secretary's statements were made in a letter to Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., who had charged that the Pearson column of Dec. 30 represented "an extremely dangerous breach of security".

U.N. PLANS FINAL MOVE FOR PEACE

affixed for a reply from Red China but that the answer will be expected well before the end of the week.

Rejection Means Punitive Steps

Final rejection by Peiping will bring introduction of a resolution drafted by the U. S. and probably sponsored with a number of others calling for the condemnation of Communist China as an aggressor, a call to get her troops out of Korea and an embargo on all relations. The Acheson plan will be invoked through summoning of the collective measures committee for drafting punitive steps.

The "last bid" to Communist China will be in the name of the General Assembly and thus constitute the highest-level approach possible in the world organization. Previous offers were made through the assembly's three-man cease-fire group, which Peiping refused to recognize.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Is Irregular

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The stock market developed a mixed price pattern today. Selected issues continued to push into a new high ground, while many recent favorites sold off on profit-taking. Dealings proceeded at an active pace with the ticker running behind for a 16-minute stretch soon after the opening.

J. I. Case was prominent in the industrials with a rise of a point to 58. International Paper was up ¾ to 53⅝. Union Carbide was up ⅜ to 56⅝ and General Electric was up ¼ at 51¾. On the declining side, U. S. Steel was off ½ at 45½. Bethlehem Steel was off ⅜ at 55½ and DuPont off ¼ at 84¾.

The swift moving Nickel Plate featured the rails with a climb of 4⅝ points to 188. Rock Island was up at 53½ and Southern Pacific was up ⅜ at 68⅛. New York Central, however, eased ⅛ to 24⅜.

International Telephone was again in heavy demand with a block of 10,000 shares changing hands at 15¾, up ¼.

Curb stocks were selectively higher. Electric Bond & Share was up ¼, Kaiser Frazer up ⅛ and Cities Service off ⅛.

The bond market ruled higher with second-grade rail issues in demand.

Commodities were mixed. Wheat was off ½ cent a bushel, corn off ⅜ and cotton was down 45 cents a bale.

Slight Gain In Jobless Number

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The State Unemployment Compensation Bureau today reported a slight gain in the number of jobless persons during the first week of 1951.

The weekly total of new unemployment benefit claims filed in the state rose seven percent to 28,800 in the week ended January 5, the bureau reported. The rise was attributed to seasonal layoffs and material shortages in some industries.

Plan Kickoff Of Shenango Y.M.C.A. Membership Drive

Richard E. Rentz, Assistant treasurer of the New Castle News, R. L. Meermans, Secretary of the New Castle YMCA, Dr. J. Gillespie and Dr. Garnett of the Shenango Branch of the YMCA, will, as speakers, kick off the 1951 Shenango Street YMCA membership campaign, Sunday at 4 o'clock at a meeting in the Lobby of the Branch Y.

Frank E. Bailey, last year's general chairman, has again been elected and will serve as this year's chairman. He has been active in community and social welfare in the social organizations of the community for a number of years.

Bethany Lutherans Have Annual Meeting

Members and friends of Bethany Lutheran church, corner of East Washington and Lutton, gathered at the church on Wednesday evening for a tureen dinner which was followed by the annual congregational meeting. Approximately 75 persons were present. Dinner preparations and general arrangements were expedited by the following committee: Mrs. E. B. Taylor, Mrs. John Hardy, Mrs. A. E. Reynolds and Mrs. K. E. Reitz.

Reports from the various organizations of the church indicated growth along all lines during the past year. The pastor of the church, Rev. Paul E. Walthour, gave a complete report of the life and work of the congregation and made particular mention of the following: 18 new members received, 23 children baptized, a 75 per cent increase in attendance at the services of the church. A fine record of benevolent giving was also noted which, beside regular money donations, included the shipment of 600 pounds of clothing to the displaced persons of Europe and Asia, and a large donation of food and produce to the Lutheran Children's Home at Zelienople. Also, at Christmas, baskets were sent to the sick of the congregation and to the boys of the armed services in Korea.

Rev. Walthour also suggested goals and working projects for the coming year. In the spring an active program of Parish Evangelism will get under way to be sponsored by a group known as "Bethany Boosters." The goal for this year is 100 new members.

Two men were elected to the office of church councilmen: A. E. Reynolds and Rudy Morrone. They will be installed at Sunday morning's church service. The following committee chairmen were also appointed: building and property, George Macom; finance, A. E. Reynolds; educational, Miss Florence Mitchell; worship, Mrs. A. E. Reynolds; evangelism, C. R. Gustafson; music, Mrs. Walter Glenn, and publicity, Miss Elizabeth Brudin.

After being led in group singing by Thomas Ridley, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Bender at the piano, the meeting was adjourned by repeating the Lord's Prayer and the Benediction by the pastor.

'Houdini' Trouble For Philadelphia Police Is Reported

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(INS)—A "Houdini" rather than a "who-done-it" is baffling Philadelphia police today, but they hope it won't be for long.

The "Houdini" is 19-year-old Kenneth B. Laplante of Ludlow, Mass., whom police are struggling to hold for Holyoke authorities, who want him for a breaking and entering charge.

Laplante was arrested yesterday at a marine recruiting station in Philadelphia, and when put in a cell asked:

"Is this the best jail you got?"

The local cops heard from Massachusetts authorities that Laplante is a pretty slippery character, so they doubled the locks on the cell door.

But in two minutes flat, Laplante used a piece of wire he had secreted and picked both locks. He would have made his way to freedom if the police had not been forewarned.

So the cops are maintaining a constant watch over him and hope that Holyoke detectives will arrive soon to take him away.

Refuse New Trial To Edward L. Gibbs, Convicted Of Murder

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The state supreme court today denied the appeal of Edward L. Gibbs, Franklin & Marshall college student, from his conviction for the murder of pretty Marian Baker, a college stenographer.

In a per curiam opinion, the high tribunal refused Gibbs' petition for a new trial.

Gibbs has been convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of Miss Baker and faces death in the electric chair.

Only 147 Mailmen In Chicago Bitten During Past Year

CHICAGO, Jan. 12. — (INS) — Chicago postmen—although outnumbered 48 to 1—nevertheless are making gains in their battle against bitting dogs.

Postmaster John Haderlein reported yesterday only 147 of 4,700 mail carriers were bitten last year, compared with 154 in 1949. This was despite a big increase in the number of dogs from 131,620 to 228,497.

TWO ARE KILLED

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 12.—(INS)—A 70-year-old man was killed by a hit-run driver in Scranton today and another man died when his car skidded and rammed a utility pole.

Victim of the hit-run episode was Kostek Prokop of Mount Cobb. The other fatality was Eugene M. Kanavey, 31, of Scranton.

Officers Installed By Madonna Sodality

Members of the Madonna Sodality gathered to witness an impressive ceremony of the installation of new officers in the Madonna church on Thursday evening, January 11. The officers which were installed are as follows: Prefect, Dorothy Brincko; Vice-Prefect, Patricia Maslyk; Secretary, Delores Sniezek; Treasurer, Clara Dudek.

Rev. Fr. A. Inteso, director of the L. C. U. S., gave an interesting talk that the sodalists were expected to be better girls than those that are not sodalists. He pointed out the story of St. Agnes, whose feast day falls on the 21st of this month. Following the sermon, the old officers turned over their symbols to the new officers. Rev. Fr. A. Koziatek officiated at the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Immediately following the ceremony, the regular meeting was held in the Sodality room. Dorothy Brincko resided. Sister Fedelis gave the opening prayer. The Eucharistic Chairlady, Sophie Jendrysik, spoke about Blasphemy and Cursing; Our Lady's Chairlady, Helen Temenski, read an article about the Blessed Virgin Mary; Publicity Chairlady, Stella Bistyga, read an amusing item about money, talked about the bulletin board and appointed reporters for the Sodality news-sheet; Catholic Truth Chairlady, Jane Rodgers, explained the symbol of the Sodality; Social Life Chairlady, Frances Plonka, conducted a gesture game, with the prize going to Dorothy Presnar.

The prefect reminded the officers and committee chairlady's to attend the L. C. U. S. meeting, at St. Michael's church, Sunday, January 14, at 3 o'clock.

A special event is to be held the first week in March. The closing prayer was by Rev. Fr. Koziatek. The meeting was adjourned to the next regular meeting on Thursday, February 8, at 7:30 o'clock in the Sodality rooms.

Four Afflicted Brothers Realize Life's Ambition

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Two of the four Godfrey brothers, all afflicted with incurable muscular distrophy, have realized their life's ambition—they sang on the radio.

George, Jr., 24, and his red-haired brother, Roy, 21, appeared on Ted Mack's amateur hour over the ABC network. George sang "Peg o' My Heart" in a light tenor voice, and Roy, a baritone, sang "Rambler Roses."

Applauding vigorously with the crowd in the studio audience were the Godfreys' parents, George and Armonice Godfrey, and their two younger sons, Robert, 16, and Michael 12.

The four boys are suffering from various stages of the disease which progressively wastes the muscles until the vital organs are weakened to the point of death.

Their plight was brought to public attention by the muscular distrophy association which is seeking $250,000 to continue research for a cure.

George and Roy, who are self-taught singers, passed an audition before last night's performance and George said:

"I hope we were picked because we're good and not just because we're sick."

Wants To Permit Live Telecasts On Congress Floor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Rep. Javits (RL) N. Y., wants to project the activities of congressmen on the floor of the house into the nation's living rooms via television.

Javits introduces today a resolution which would amend the house rules to permit live telecasts and radio broadcasts from the floor.

Javits cited as an example to be followed "the extremely successful television coverage of the debates of the security council and the general assembly of the United Nations . . ."

The New York congressman added:

"Members of congress are constantly faced with the problem of keeping their constituents informed as to the positions they are taking on public issues . . .

Decision Year In Many Offices

Important Elections For Fall Of 1951

This is the "Year of Decision" in many political offices in both the county and city. No municipal election in years has had more important offices at stake and the political virus is beginning to work among potential candidates.

In the county there will be a judge to elect, a county treasurer, a prothonotary and clerk of courts and a county controller.

In the city there will be a mayor to elect, two city councilmen, a city treasurer and three school directors. While the list of offices is important, the length of the ballot will not be unusually large unless the field is dotted with candidates.

COURT FINISHES

The January term of civil court is finished and there will be no more until April. The jury for next week has been notified not to appear, the two courts for February have been cancelled, there is none scheduled in March and April will be the next term of civil court.

Two verdicts were received on Thursday. Sammy A. and Natale N. Musitano were awarded a total of $1824.57 from the Bankers' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Lancaster for damage to a tractor-trailer and loss of use.

The plaintiffs contended the tractor-trailer was stolen by an employe and located in Castle Creek, N. Y. The equipment was damaged and for the damage the jury awarded $1324.57. For loss of use $500.

Judge John G. Lamoree had an interesting case before him in court room No. 2. The Auto Owners Finance company case against Harold Alborn was settled with a verdict of $600 for Alborn.

Some time ago a resident of Rhode Island brought a car into a garage where Alborn is employed and asked for an estimate upon repairs. An estimate was given which the car owner thought was more than he wanted to pay. He offered to sell the car to Alborn and a deal was made after the Rhode Island man assured Alborn there were no liens against the car.

Rhode Island does not note the liens on a car on the title and this was unknown to Alborn. Later it developed the car had been sold upon a conditional sale and the finance company began tracking it. They located the car here and replevined it. Alborn protested and the case went to court, ending in his favor.
